Noted Aviation Figures To Attend Martin Dinner

WRIGHT WILL BE GUEST OF BEACH CITY

Orville Wright, who made the first airplane flight with his brother, Wilbur, at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903, will be among the distinguished guests at the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce banquet commemorating the 25th anniversary of Glenn Martin's flight from Newport to Catalina. The banquet will be on the evening of May 10.

Martin himself will be the honored guest at this banquet. The guest list reads like a "Who's Who" in aeronautics. Those who have signified their intentions of attending the banquet, in addition to Martin and Wright are: Dr. Clark B. Millikan, president of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, and professor of aeronautics at California Institute of Technology; Major Lester D. Gardner, secretary of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, who will fly from New York for the occasion; Gen. Oscar Westover, chief of Air Corps, War Department, Washington, D. C.; Rear-Admiral A. Lethal Gas Bill Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 22.—(UP)—Substitution of lethal gas for hanging in California's two penitentiaries, San Quentin and Folsom, was proposed in a bill which went to Gov. Frank F. Merriam today for signature.

The lower house passed the measure, 59 to 6, late yesterday after brief opposition from members who opposed capital punishment in any form.

Several who spoke in favor of the bill said they did not believe in the death penalty because it was not applied equally, but they agreed to vote for "the more humane" method of carrying out the sentence.

The bill was introduced by Sen. James B. Holohan, former warden at San Quentin, and drew little opposition in the upper house recently.

Speaking in favor of it in the assembly, C. C. Cottrell, San Jose, who led an unsuccessful fight against capital punishment two years ago, said:

"I am convinced that executions are only for those who have not the money with which to build up propaganda in their own interests. Because only the poor person usually is affected, I believe executions should be abolished, but if we are going to have them they should at least be modernized."

MILITIAMEN GUARD CITY AFTER RIOT

AUBURN, Me., April 22.—(UP)—Militiamen armed with bayonet-tipped rifles patrolled Auburn streets in an April snowstorm today as local police arrested "Powder Hapgood and five other C. I. O. shoe strike leaders and charged them with inciting a riot yesterday that was quelled with tear gas.

Aid Auburn Police

Col. Spaulding Bisbee of the Maine National guard said the 450 troops sent there by Gov. Lewis O. Barrows would aid local police on patrol duty unless further violence occurs. In that event, martial law probably would be declared.

Hapgood, 37-year-old Harvard graduate and New England C. I. O. secretary, and the other five defendants, all members of C. I. O. United Shoe Workers of America, were ordered held in $200 bail each for the grand jury. They were arraigned before Municipal Judge James A. Pulsifer.

Organizers Held

Besides Hapgood, defendants were William J. Mackesy, Lynn, Mass., chief Maine organizer for U. S. W. A.; Ernest Henry, Auburn, Mass., U. S. W. A. organizer; Arthur Nadeau, Lewiston striker, and William Parker and Edward Parent, Auburn strikers.

The six were arrested as the "general shoe strike" called by the U. S. W. A. in the "twin cities" of Lewiston and Auburn entered its 25th day.

All 19 shoe factories opened on schedule today, though U. S. W. A. officials said 5000 of the 6000 workers in the two cities were on strike. No picketing was attempted.

Strikers scheduled a meeting for this afternoon at Lewiston city hall. Riots have followed similar meetings the past two days.

Petition Prepared

Counsel for manufacturers were preparing a petition charging strike leaders with contempt. They planned to present the petition to Justice Harry Manser of the state supreme court, who Tuesday issued a temporary injunction to restrain U. S. W. A. organizers from all strike activity.

Troops were ordered out by Governor Barrows last night after state and local police, badly outnumbered by strikers and sympathizers, were forced to use tear gas to clear streets.

COLLEGE FIESTA LEADERS

NAME COLLEGE FIESTA HEADS

Margaret Crowell and Allen Titensor will reign as Dona and Don of the 10th annual Santa Ana Junior college Fiesta day, May 14. These two students were elected by unanimous ballot yesterday over five other candidates.

Miss Crowell, member of the Pi-loteers, college service club, is the daughter of Mrs. L. J. Crowell, 304 North Baker street. Titensor, president of the sophomore class and co-captain of the football team, is the son of Mrs. Alice Titensor, 213 Lacy street.

Approximately 1000 county high school seniors have been invited to the fiesta. Miss Crowell and Titensor will aid in the judging for the most colorful costume.

According to Associated Student President Neil McDaniel, upwards of 45 per cent of the Associated student body voted at the polls yesterday. This is a record turnout for local college elections.

Other candidates in vying for honors were Henrietta Rurip, Lois Mae Stockton and Lewellyn Allen for Dona and Paul Martin and Paul Christ for Don.

Each year students at the college vote for the students of their choice to reign as king and queen of the fiesta. Last year John Ramirez and Lois Murray were selected.

WIDOW OF BANK FOUNDER DIES

Orange county yesterday lost one of her most revered pioneers with the death of Mrs. Margaret Amelia Crookshank, 96, resident of Santa Ana for 51 years, at the family home, 802 French street.

Mrs. Crookshank, wife of the late M. M. Crookshank, had been an invalid for several years. She was the mother of A. J. Conrad C. and Miss Lida Crookshank, and the late Clarence S. Crookshank.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. from Smith and Tuthill funeral chapel, with the Rev. P. F. Schrock of the Congregational church, officiating. Mrs. Crookshank was a member of the Congregational church for many years. The family requests that flowers be omitted. Interment at Fairhaven cemetery will follow services.

The late M. M. Crookshank, who died in 1916, founded the First National bank here in 1886 shortly after coming here from Central City and Chadbrook, Ia. Like Mr. Crookshank, his wife was born in Nova Scotia.

Among those surviving are the grandchildren, Josephine, internationally-known tennis player; Miles J. of New York; Constance, of San Francisco and Marion, all children of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, and Atty. Ronald Crookshank and Eleanor Crookshank, both of Santa Ana, children of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Crookshank.

SELECT NEW OFFICERS OF COUNTY BAR

Raymond H. Thompson, Fullerton, attorney, was elected president of the Orange County Bar Association last night at the annual meeting in Daniger's cafe, Santa Ana, at which time the association also passed resolutions asking county supervisors to establish the office of a public defender, and endorsing the proposed bill in the legislature under which court judges would allow compensation to attorneys defending indigent persons in criminal cases. The bill would apply to counties having no public defender.

Ira Kroese Advanced

Thompson succeeds Col. M. B. Wellington, of Santa Ana, as head of the bar association. He served as first vice president last year. Two other vice presidents stepped up a grade in last night's election. Ira F. Kroese, of Santa Ana, advanced from second to first vice president, thus becoming in line for the presidency next year. James B. Tucker advanced from third to second vice president. Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis was elected third vice president.

George Parker was re-elected secretary-treasurer, a post he has filled for a number of years.

Asks Bar Attitude

A communication from State Senator Harry C. Westover, who is a member of the bar association, asking the organization's attitude toward the measure proposing fixed compensation for attorneys called upon to defend criminal cases by court appointment, a service now unpaid. The law would apply only in counties where there is no public defender.

John Harvey, of the committee on the public defender proposal, stated that the matter had been presented to the supervisors here, and he believed the board would establish the office here if the bar association formally requested it.

A resolution requesting the action thereupon was adopted; also a resolution advising Senator Westover and Assemblyman Clyde Watson and Thomas Kuechel that the bar association endorses the compensation plan for counties which have no public defender.

Mulherron Returns To Mayor's Job

"In again, out again, gone again Finnigan" is the new slogan suggested for the San Clemente city council as a result of action taken last night.

Like the chameleon who changes his color to suit the occasion, the Spanish village council changes its chairmen whenever desirable.

Last night, Dan Mulherron, who in November resigned his office as mayor of San Clemente, was re-appointed to the road of trustees and subsequently re-named mayor. That's the "in again" part of the story.

At the same time, Henry Fate, mayor during Mulherron's absence from municipal affairs, resigned his office, making it possible for Mulherron's reinstatement. That's the "out again" part of the slogan.

In order to make all these changes possible, it was necessary for one member of the council to resign from the board entirely. This action was taken by Guy Bartlett thereby making the story complete. In other words, Bartlett is the "out again" part of the mix up.

The whole thing started in November, when Works Progress Administrator Harry Hopkins ruled that a city official could not be connected with W. P. A. work. Mulherron, who was elected mayor last April, is also county W. P. A. administrator. Hence, his decision to resign his San Clemente office. Yesterday, Hopkins handed down a decision to the effect that a W. P. A. official could also hold down a city job providing that job does not pay in excess of $200 a year. City councilmen at San Clemente draw no salary at all.

LABOR NEEDS HERE CITED BY FLAHERTY

Facing an alarming shortage of agricultural field workers in Orange county, Roland D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, today appealed directly to Ray Pomeroy, state director of relief, and Mrs. Katharine Handley, local director, for aid in solving the problem.

Flaherty in his letter to Mrs. Handley pointed out that farmers are complaining that their workers still are receiving relief through the local office and that difficulty is being experienced in getting enough workers to relieve an acute situation in the fields.

Recalling the co-operation between the SRA and the farm bureau of the last two years, Flaherty urged that agricultural workers be released from the relief rolls and thus become available for farm work. Flaherty suggested that the SRA rules be made sufficiently liberal so that workers could get back on relief without too long a delay after completing employment in the fields.

A copy of the letter to Mrs. Handley was sent to the state director by Flaherty with the suggestion that each time checks are mailed out to those on relief the recipients would be required to take jobs available in the NRS office before being given the checks.

Flaherty closed his letter to Pomeroy by stating "there is little need to continue agricultural workers on SRA rolls for several months. We are attempting to give widespread publicity to the desirability of farmers securing their labor needs through the NRS."

REBELS RENEW MADRID ATTACK

MADRID, April 22.—(UP)—Rebel artillery rained approximately 100 shells into the center of Madrid today in the 11th day of a bombardment which had killed 150 people and wounded more than 300.

The bombardment lasted from 6 a. m. to 7:30 a. m. today, a period during which many early workers and women going to market were in the street.

The population scattered for refuge in cellars and subway stations as shrapnel flew through the air and splattered against walls.

About 10 casualties occurred, of whom two were known dead.

Squads went out before day-break to wash away pools of blood in the streets, there since yesterday's bombardment—the worst experienced by the capital during the entire civil war—and to remove corpses of men and beasts.

VALENCIA, Spain, April 22.—(UP)—A Febus (Spanish) news agency dispatch from Andujar today reported that the loyalists had begun a big offensive in mid-afternoon along the whole Pozoblanco front in south-central Spain.

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, April 22.—(UP)—Gen Emilio Mola moved nationalist reinforcements into the Vergara, Elbar and El Orrio sectors of the Basque front today in preparations for a renewed assault on Bilbao, frontier dispatches reported.

STATE LIQUOR ACT IS SIGNED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 22.—(UP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam today signed the 2 a. m. liquor closing law which officially requires all liquor establishments to be closed between the hours of 2 and 6 a. m. daily.

It was introduced as an emergency measure by Assemblyman Melvyn I. Cronin, San Francisco, as a result of conflicting court decisions and the attitude of law enforcement officials in San Francisco and some other points that the board of equalization had no authority to enforce a 2 a. m. closing edict.

The senate morning session was delayed by a long-drawn relief fight in the governmental relief committee, which recommended for passage the so-called supervisors' unemployment relief bill.

Amendments offered by Sen. W. P. Rich, Marysville, proposing to readjust the bill's entire financial setup were adopted over protest of both sides.

As originally presented by the Northern California Supervisors association, the bill sought to transfer administration of all relief to the counties and provided for maximum county payments of 16 cents on the tax dollar. The state was to assume anything in excess of this sum.

Under Rich's amendments, however, all costs above five cents on the dollar would be placed on a matching basis between the state and counties.

The assembly ways and means committee late yesterday approved the Hornblower old age pension proposal to guarantee $35 a month to all eligible persons 65 and older and permit an outside income of $15 a month.

Other provisions of the bill: Permit owning real estate up to $2,000.

SUSPECT DIES IN 3-HOUR GUN FIGHT

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 22.—(UP)—A Negro murder suspect was shot to death and a young Pennsylvania state trooper was wounded critically today in a three hour gun battle at the little mining town of Filbert seven miles southeast of here.

Barricaded in a mine house, the Negro, Hamilton Westwick, fugitive from the Fayette county jail shot State Trooper Joseph Hopper, 32, then fought two hours longer before he was killed by machine gun bullets.

Hopper, a private in the Uniontown barracks of the state police, was given a blood transfusion at Uniontown hospital. He was shot twice in the abdomen and twice in the chest. Physicians gave him only a "bare chance" to recover.

FARLEY OUTLINES NEED OF U. S. CUTS

TROY, N. Y., April 22.—(UP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley told the Renaissance county committee last night that "this country cannot continue to go on for a long time spending more than it takes in."

"Sooner or later the federal relief program will have to be curtailed," he said.

"It will have to be done gradually, however, or we will be in for some difficult times in the populous centers."

DUKE PREPARES TO JOIN MRS. SIMPSON

PARIS, April 22.—(UP)—The Duke of Windsor intends to join Mrs. Wallis Simpson at the Chateau de Candé at Monts May 4, the day after the expected award of her final divorce decree, it was understood today.

A motor truck containing some of the duke's luggage already has arrived at Monts, along with a British detective and one of the duke's chauffeurs.

LONDON, April 22.—(UP)—At least five persons have visited the offices of the king's proctor in recent days with the idea of opposing the award of a final divorce decree to Mrs. Wallis Simpson, it was said today in a reliable quarter. In each instance the visitor has been informed that the evidence cited was insufficiently conclusive.

HOSPITAL STRIKERS FACE PRISON TERMS

NEW YORK, April 22.—(UP)—Sixteen strikers and the president of their union faced prison terms of 12 years each today for conducting a sit-down strike in the Brooklyn Jewish hospital on March 15.

All were convicted under a law enacted in 1881 and never before invoked. It makes it a crime to endanger life or property by refusing to work. Sentence was set for April 30.

The five-day trial was marked by testimony of the confusion in the hospital which so disrupted ordinary routine that a 3-year-old boy was said to have died while a physician lost precious minutes at an elevator deserted by its operator.

The defense stripped that testimony of its importance, however, when it obtained an admission from Dr. Benjamin Kramer that the child died nearly half an hour before he attempted to use the elevator.

INCREASE DUE IN M. W. D. TAX

Possibility that Santa Ana's share of costs in the Metropolitan Water district will be increased shortly was forecast by City Purveyor Agent Lloyd Banks today with the passage by the legislature of a bill permitting the Metropolitan Water district to levy a tax of not to exceed 5 cents to meet payments on the power contracts with the Federal government.

The bill now is before Gov. P. F. Merriam and it is reported that he will sign it.

Santa Ana at the present time pays 37 cents per $100 assessed valuation to the Metropolitan Water district. This will be increased to 57 cents next year and within the next two or three years Santa Ana will be paying 65 cents to 70 cents in addition to the amount to be levied under the bill just passed by the legislature.

Banks pointed out that within a few years the city of Santa Ana will be paying half as much to the district as it takes to run the entire city government.

The bill passed yesterday is said to have been designed to meet a difficult situation with which the district will be faced in reference to distribution of costs for maintenance and operation of the aqueduct.

To lift the load, the proposed bill would permit a tax levy to pay the cost of power, which, under the contract with the government, must be paid regardless of whether the district can use it or not. Ordinarily the power costs would be an essential part of operation costs, it is pointed out.

STORES ADOPT NEW SCHEDULE

Santa Ana merchants will adopt a new hour schedule Monday, when they will open at 9 a. m. and close at 5:30 p. m., Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of commerce announced today.

Although the survey of the merchants has not been completed, the trend is such that no doubt remains as to the sentiments of the majority of the merchants on the new hourly bases, it was announced.

Santa Ana merchants expressed their sentiments against the Saturday night closing at their Tuesday morning session at the chamber offices. Saturday closing time will remain 9 p. m.

Glendale went on this new 9 to 5:30 schedule this morning, Wood said. The trend in other Southern California cities is the same.

"It will be several weeks before it can be definitely decided whether local merchants will close either on Saturday night or Monday," Wood explained.

The new closing hours will not effect those concerns dealing in paints, typewriters or wholesale business lines.

The unofficial trend of the survey indicates that most of the larger concerns favor the new schedule, while smaller merchants in the east end of the city objected.

FOUR CANNERIES IN STOCKTON PREPARE TO REOPEN TOMORROW

STOCKTON, Cal., April 22.—(UP)—Four canneries shut down by picket lines of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' union today defied unionists with a statement they would re-open the plants tomorrow and were relying on local officials' assurance that "law and order will be maintained."

Paul St. Sure, attorney for the California Processors and Growers, Inc., representing the cannery owners, made the announcement citing that the valuable perishable crops in the area were in need of immediate attention.

A citizen army of more than 1000 special deputies was reported ready to grab pick handles and baseball bats to get non-union workers into plants.

In Sacramento Governor Merriam announced he would appoint a committee to investigate all angles of the situation which has caused the cannery strike.

Governor Merriam asked all parties interested in negotiations to refrain from interference with the operation of the canneries "or any act that will provoke further misunderstanding and possible violence during the time the committee is being appointed and making such investigation of the situation as may come within its province."

HOLLISTER, Calif., April 22.—(UP)—A campaign was under way in San Benito county today to enlist fruit growers into the Associated Farmers of California. Two hundred farmers met last night to hear Jack Anderson, a San Juan pear grower, explain the objectives.

"Ninety-five per cent come here with the intention to work," he said. "We hope to curb trouble from the other five per cent."

COURT HEARINGS TO END TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(UP)—Chairman Henry F. Ashurst announced today that the senate judiciary hearing on the president's judicial reorganization plan would close Friday.

Ashurst said that the judiciary committee would start executive consideration of the president's bill for enlargement of the supreme court on Tuesday morning.

Asked how long would be required in executive sessions, the chairman pulled a two dollar bill from his pocket and said:

"If I knew the answer to your question, I could double that."

Bombs Blamed On Labor Troubles

CHICAGO, April 22.—(UP)—Five of six bombings in 24 hours were blamed today on labor troubles which police said may have inspired organization of a bombing ring.

Dynamite was exploded last night near the home of Earl H. Rieck, secretary-treasurer of the Du Page County Building and Trades council.

Rieck said he knew of no motives and had received no warnings.

Four bombings Tuesday night, each without warning, also were attributed to labor troubles. The fifth attack, on the Kedzie creamery company, was attributed to price wars.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To offset in part the rapidly advancing cost of white paper, other newspaper materials and operating expenses, The Register is forced to announce a slight increase in its subscription rate, effective May 1, 1937.

The new rate will be 75 cents per month, an increase of 10 cents.

We are convinced that the readers desire The Register to continue with its present high standard rather than to curtail its quality.

MAN'S WIFE, BABY DIE AS HE IS JAILED AS DRUNK DRIVER

Tragedy carved deep wounds in the life of 28-year-old William A. Syra, painter, of 1421 1/2 West Fifth street, last night at 7 o'clock. As Syra, involved in a traffic accident, was being jailed on a charge of drunk driving, his wife, Frances 25, and their new-born baby girl, died at Orange county hospital.

It was believed Mrs. Syra, who by C. A. Todd, 1304 West La Veta street, Orange, in a southerly direction on Main. Although none was injured, both cars were badly wrecked, city police reported. According to notation on Syra's driver's license, he paid a $150 fine in city court here last year after a drunk driving conviction.

It was believed Syra was en route to county hospital to see his wife at the time of the accident.

At 8:30 p. m. Jailer Theo. "Budge" Lacy called police headquarters, asking that a police car be sent to the jail to escort Syra to the hospital.

100 JOIN PLEA FOR HANDBALL FACILITIES HERE

That handball is a live issue with Santa Ana men is demonstrated by the experience of the Y. M. C. A. handball committee, headed by Dr. G. E. Raitt, which has been making an investigation of local interest in the game.

As a result of a canvass, more than 100 men have signed a request to the Y. M. C. A. directors to provide handball court equipment, promising to get into the game and make use of such equipment when it is made available. These are said to be only a part of the men who are interested and who desire to have an opportunity to engage in the sport and recreation it affords.

Other Games
Calling attention to the lack of handball space in Santa Ana, Orlyn Robertson, one of the committee men now working on the project, expressed his opinion that the game can be made a popular feature in the recreational life of the entire community.

"With such courts available as those we have in prospect," he said, "it will be possible to play squash and other popular games in addition to the regular handball. I am convinced that these courts will be kept constantly in use by our men, and that their capacity will be taxed to accommodate the number who will get into the game. Since there are no really modern handball courts in Santa Ana we believe that it is a real opportunity for us to make this addition to the town's attractions."

The committee headed by Dr. Raitt is working on the problem of financing the erection of the two courts now planned as a permanent addition to the present Y building. If proper arrangements can be made, it is hoped that construction can be started soon, so that the courts will be ready in ample time for the men to use during the summer months.

Playhouse Means Work to Shirley

Spring housecleaning may hold few thrills for grownups, but Shirley Temple, as shown above, seems to enjoy it immensely. And what girl, presented with a beautiful playhouse, wouldn't keep it spick and span? Busy, the young film star is pictured on the patio of the glass playhouse, 20 feet wide, 12 feet deep, and six feet high, built for her behind the swimming pool on the Temple estate. Built of translucent glass bricks, the little dwelling features a living room, miniature kitchen, and doll bedroom.

Union Jacks Answer 'Red' Charge in Oshawa Strike

Photographed as they waved Union Jacks and other Canadian ensigns, 100 women picketed the General Motors plant in Oshawa, Ont., in answer to charges that the strike was dominated by Communists. The women sang national airs and booed nonunion workers who passed through the lines. The strike situation was fast reaching a climax with resignation of two members of the Ontario cabinet and the demand by Oshawa's labor-sympathetic mayor that the C. I. O. call out its U. S. members to bring pressure for Canadian recognition.

Hunt, white follower of Father Divine, is at liberty at present on $10,000 bond following his surrender to a federal complaint on the same charges. The indictment voted yesterday supersedes the complaint.

The proposed legislation increases the basic quota for all members of the American sugar system from 6,452,000 short tons to 6,514,000 tons.

Under the new bill, United States beet sugar growers would be guaranteed a minimum of 1,500,000 tons and the Louisiana and Florida cane growers a minimum of 440,727 tons. The original Jones bill gave Louisiana and Florida a quota of 360,000 tons.

DECLARES RUSSIA FOR WORLD PEACE

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(UP)—Soviet Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky said today that Russia will throw all its strength on the side of democracy "when the time comes for the struggle between imperfect democracy and perfect fascism."

He attacked those who criticize the Soviet union because it has certain elements of dictatorship. The union, he said, is fundamentally on the side of democracy, but is surrounded by enemies and must defend itself as if entrenched in a military camp.

"We want to persuade all doubting Thomases that we are for world peace and that our armaments are destined for maintaining peace," he said.

If refused passage to a bill to permit abatement of establishments where gambling devices were found, and failed to act on a measure to classify as illegal all machines operated partly by chance and partly by skill.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is a faithful arraignment of the God who made you to cultivate an ingrowing sense of inferiority. The notion that your abilities are contemptible in the sight of others is equivalent to assuming that God is a bungling workman.

Various men differ in the quality of their capacities and in the sphere of their activities, but no other man's talents and services are of greater moment in God's sight than are yours.

Even while your heart aches, you are big enough, with His help to fulfill the great tasks He has opened before you. He needs what you alone can do.

SPEAKER HOLDS 'GET TOGETHER' IS GREAT NEED

"I am an American." That was the way Jacob Rubin, native-born Russian, who was reared in the atmosphere and belief of Marxian Socialism, concluded his address to the Orange County Bar Association last night, when he declared that the democratic government of the United States, with its capitalist system, is the greatest of earthly, needing only closer cooperation between capital and labor.

Sees Both Sides

Pointing to the trend toward dictatorships resulting from the European political and economic philosophies, Rubin, noted writer and lecturer, urged efforts to get capital and labor closer together in this country, to insure protection of the system which he contends to surpass all others. He has looked at both sides of the question and "I am an American," he finished impressively.

Because of unexplained "mistakes" in Russia, Rubin's parents came to America when he was 13 years old, he said. They settled in Milwaukee, capital of socialism in this country, and he grew up there imbued with the beliefs and principles of Marx. He was an urgent supporter of Victor Berger, first Socialist ever elected to congress.

Then came the revolution in his native land and the rise of socialist theories to power there. Rubin, as a leading American Socialist, went to Russia, enthusiastic with the opportunity of aiding to perfect his pet principles of government.

But it didn't work, he said. He finally became disillusioned. Eventually he drew suspicion as an American spy and was thrown into jail, under sentence of death at Odessa.

Only the arrival of Captain James Irwin, local man, he said, prevented the execution. Captain Irwin, member of a Red Cross unit, saved his life, Rubin said. He then returned to the United States.

Gradually, he said, he changed his ideas regarding the relations between capital and labor. But, to be sure, he went back to Russia in 1932 to have another look at the situation. That convinced him. "I am an American," he declared.

Jaysees Invited To Advisement Day by Trojans

Santa Ana Junior college students today were invited by the Associated Students of the University of Southern California to attend the annual Advisement Day to be held this Saturday on the Trojan campus. This invitation is open to all students desirous of transferring to some university in the fall.

An elaborate program has been planned for the day. President Rufus B. von KleinSmid will be the featured speaker. Departmental round tables at which guest students will be informed of courses offered in the university's 22 colleges will follow the assembly. Individual conferences with faculty members are slated directly before lunch. A complimentary luncheon will be served at 12:30. This luncheon is under the auspices of the Associated Students.

In the afternoon scientific exhibits and demonstrations of laboratory apparatus will be featured. An Associated Student dance will complete the day's program.

City Officers Will Carry Identification

Fingerprint classifications and photographs of every member of the Santa Ana police department were being placed today upon cards, to be carried by officers as the latest means of official identification, following an order given by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard with approval of Police Commissioner Plummer Bruns.

According to wording on the cards, pocketbook size, prepared by the department's fingerprint man, Detective Lieutenant Charles W. Wolford, purpose of the card is to "assure all citizens that the bearer is a bona fide member of the Santa Ana police department, whose signature, photograph, rank, fingerprint and classification appear on the reverse side."

Although Santa Ana police are not under civil service, the method established is that used by all officers from other places, who are under civil service. The information of the cards will be sent to Sacramento and Washington, D.C., to be placed on file at headquarters. Besides a photograph and copy of the right index finger of each officer, the officer's sex, age, color of hair and eyes, height and weight, are shown.

$15,000 LEGACY RULING UPHELD

A decision of the fourth district court of appeals received here today, upholds and affirms the decision by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, involving a $15,000 legacy to a beneficiary of the Norman Greenwald estate in Santa Ana.

Judge Scovel had ruled that $12,100 in notes of Preston Duncan, Hollywood bankrupt, and the Preston Duncan Studios, Ltd., should be charged against the $15,000 bequest to Duncan in the Greenwald will, which specified that such notes should be so credited.

E. A. Lynch, Duncan's trustee in bankruptcy, appealed from the ruling, but the higher court's decision, reviewed today, held that the superior court order was correct.

FARM BUREAUS MOVE TO FIGHT HUGE FUND LOSS

Representatives of county farm bureaus in Southern California, at a Los Angeles meeting yesterday attended by Secretary Roland D. Flaherty, and William Greeley, of the Orange County Farm Bureau, went on record in opposition to the commission dealers to eliminate the lug-box refund to vegetable growers.

The move by commission dealers, which threatens an annual loss of $50,000 to $100,000, is regarded by the farm bureaus as an entering wedge for similar action with respect to crates, which would mean a loss treble that involved in lug-box refunds.

At yesterday's meeting, an invitation was extended to the board of directors of the Los Angeles Produce Dealers association, to meet with the farm bureau leaders and discuss the question, the time and place of the meeting to be arranged.

Greeley, Costa Mesa resident, is head of the vegetable department of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

John Gray, 13, and Lyle Burns, 23, San Pedro boxers, accused of holding up Marie's cafe, Doheny Park, early last Saturday shortly before they were captured in a spectacular police chase to Tustin, were held to answer to superior court this morning by Justice John Landell of San Juan Capistrano.

Ball in each case was set at $10,000.

The youths, charged with robbery, also are accused of holding up Cecily Oliver's cafe in Huntington Beach, the previous Saturday morning.

This afternoon both face another preliminary hearing before Justice Chris P. Pann in Huntington Beach, in connection with the alleged holdup there.

San Clemente, Santa Ana and Orange police, with sheriff's officers, captured the pair in a Tustin orange grove after a 90-mile-an-hour chase. The youths assertedly were using a stolen car.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(UP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution, assembled in the society's 46th annual continental congress, today adopted a resolution commending President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull for establishment of amicable relations in the western hemisphere.

The resolution lauded the work of the recent Inter-American Peace conference in Buenos Aires, sponsored by Mr. Roosevelt, toward preservation of peace among American nations.

In other resolutions, the D.A.R. Asked congress to provide "adequate" appropriations for the federal bureau of investigation, work of which was declared important in national defense.

Asked deportation of criminal aliens and registration of all aliens. Earlier the D.A.R. had urged that the Communist party be declared by law an illegal party with no right to constitutional protection.

FARM BUREAU MAY SET MILK CONTROL AREA

"In order to avoid the possibility of making Orange county the dumping ground for cheap milk from Los Angeles and other regulated milk areas, the dairy department of the local Farm Bureau today began a survey," farm leaders said.

This survey will determine whether Orange county producers not now governed by a control milk consumed in the county and if they are desirous of establishing a market area, Ned Clinton, chairman of the dairy department, explained.

"Orange county is the only area in Southern California which is not now governed by a control area under the director of agriculture," Clinton explained. "The effect of this control area would be to establish minimum wholesale prices that all milk distributors would have to pay producers."

Directors of the dairy division conferred with E. L. Vehlou of the State Department of Agriculture, Monday and decided to sponsor a petition to all dairymen of the county to see if they were in favor of establishing such a market.

If dairymen producing 65 per cent of the milk sold in the county sign up, in all probability such a control area will be created by June 1.

MAN JAILED AFTER HULA DANCER DIES

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—(UP)—A hula dancer's death after her dress caught fire while she was performing, resulted today in the jailing of Matthew Donahue, 34, on suspicion of murder.

Police claimed witnesses said he pushed a match to the flimsy costume worn by May Pordue, 22, of Portland, Ore., because she refused requests for a date. The girl, who died last night of her burns, was in a waterfront bar.

Governor Asked To Free Mooney

SACRAMENTO, April 22.—(UP)—An assembly resolution expressing belief in the innocence of Thomas J. Mooney, convicted San Francisco preparedness day bomber, and requesting his release from prison by executive pardon, was sent to Gov. Frank F. Merriam today following adoption in the lower house.

The proposal was introduced by Assemblyman Paul Ritchie, San Diego, author of two previous resolutions designed to obtain a pardon for Mooney. Both required concurrence of the senate and were refused adoption in that house.

FRUIT AND MILK TESTED AS DIET

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Three University of Wisconsin students who lived for periods ranging from seven weeks to four months on nothing but "mineralized" milk, a small amount of fruit, are ready to go back on the liquid diet any time they get a chance.

They were subjects in a nutritional and bacteriological experiment conducted by the College of Agriculture.

Specimen No. 1, Robert Goodrich, a senior, lived for four months on a diet of three and a half quarts of milk, two oranges, and two apples daily. He lost no weight and did not tire of the unvaried diet.

Didn't Crave Meat
"It wasn't hard," Goodrich explained while drinking his last liquid meal. "I had no craving for meat. The only thing I ever longed for was candy and that went away whenever I drank some more milk."

Goodrich said that his weight held steady at 148 pounds during the period. A tasteless fluid containing iron, copper, and a trace of magnesium was added to the milk to supply him with elements normally missing in milk. He admitted that he became a willing subject to the experiment "to save money." His liquid diet was "on the college."

The others who tried the experiment, Emil Petrussek and Leonard Marshall, followed the diet for seven weeks without ill effects. Petrussek gained three pounds.

At no time, the men reported, did they tire of drinking milk. Petrussek liked the diet so well that he usually drank more than his quota.

Suffered on Regular Diet
Goodrich said that when he returned to a meat and potato meal he suffered "gastric disturbances," but added that it was the fault of his excessive appetite and not of the food.

The experiment was conducted by Prof. E. G. Hastings of the department of bacteriology, and Sigurd Funder, 23, who is on a fellowship from the University of Oslo, Norway.

"The testing was partly to discover the reaction on the intestinal tract and to find if such a diet was practicable from a nutritional standpoint," Hastings said.

ITALY TO PLANT MANY TREES
ROME (UP)—A plan to plant 10,000,000 trees on Italy's denuded hills has been launched by Premier Mussolini as one way of celebrating the conquest of Ethiopia.

Nearly 6,000 acres of Italian hills are estimated to need reforestation.

Hawaii Turns May Day Into Day for Leis

HONOLULU (UP)—Historic Iolani Palace, former residence of Hawaiian kings, has been chosen as the site for this year's celebration. On May 1, of Lei day, Hawaii's most famous annual festival. Preparations are under way to make this year's observance one of the most outstanding that has ever been held.

Special observance of the day consists in everyone wearing about the neck a lei, or garland of flowers. It is one of the new, old Polynesian customs that not only has survived but that has grown more and more in favor with American visitors to the islands each year.

The festival has been held in the modern sense for the past eight years. The garlands are made from gardenias, carnations, tuberoses, delicate Chinese violets and a host of other native flowers.

Contests will be held this year for the most beautiful and unique lei, while dancing, concerts and general festivity will make the day an outstanding one.

Originally, in the old Polynesian culture, the lei custom had a ceremonial meaning, but nowadays it is continued primarily because of the Hawaiian's love of beauty.

Iolani Palace will be used this year for the festival for the first time. All of the most beautiful lei will be hung there for final decision of judges.

While lei are now worn the entire year around and incoming Brought to Santa Ana under auspices of the senior high school, Halliburton's lecture promises to lure hundreds of Orange county residents. Lynn H. Crawford, high school principal, issued a statement today urging attendance. He said:

"The appearance of Halliburton in his 'Seven League Boots' lecture has been made possible through the desire of the senior high school to sponsor an attraction here of the quality that has been established by some of the civic and club organizations.

"We particularly desire to bring this romantic lecturer here for the genuine enjoyment of the young people and the public in general at a price that the students could afford, and that the public would find reasonable.

"We hope that the community will join with us in this while venture to bring the best to Santa Ana."

Among other organizations urging attendance at the lecture are the Santa Ana Ministerial association, the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, and 20-30 service clubs. The Toastmasters club and the Eboli club have also given their approval to the lecture.

All the adventure and romance of Halliburton's world travels will be re-lived in tomorrow night's talk. Halliburton will tell the story of the massacre of Czar Nicholas and his family in Russia. He also will relate his trek over the Alps.

tourists and visitors are wreathed with them as a sign of welcome and hospitality, the May day celebration will be the occasion of highly competitive fabrication of the most beautiful garlands possible.

STEEL WORKERS FACE JOB TESTS

McKEESPORT, Pa., (UP)—When the steel mills hired men in the old days, the employment manager walked to the gate where applicants were assembled, gave them a hurried, professional "once-over" and then pointed out the ones he wanted.

"You, you and you," he shouted. The new employee reported to the timekeeper and went to work.

Times have changed. A.B. Holmes, employment superintendent of the National Tube Works, has interviewed more than 8,000 job-seekers in the past seven years.

"The company knows all about every man hired now," he said. "The employment office records the applicant's birth, age, weight, height, color of eyes and hair, his parents' names, social status, education and past experience.

"Physical examinations play an important part. The job-seeker must undergo a physical examination by the company doctor to determine his fitness for steel mill work."

Every Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock Holmes receives applications. The applicants who stand around the employment office on any day but Monday haven't a chance. And the best way to go about getting a job in the steel mills which this spring are riding a prosperity wave is to "tell the truth about yourself, but don't brag," Holmes advised.

"The applicant should come in and talk in a friendly manner," he said. "This is better than trying to put something over on the fellow who has been examining applicants a long time."

"It's up to the applicant to sell himself, but some overdo the part."

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, April 22.—Settin

Around (Warner Brothers): The

imposing edifice completely surrounded by an eight foot wall and standing at the studio's North gate, is Marion Davies' bungalow.

Sight of it gives me the sighs.

How gladly I would swap my humble home for Marion's castle, unquestionably the most elaborate dressing quarters in Hollywood history. A ten-room, two-story house, it has a private theater, a luxurious living room that contains thousands of dollars worth of fine paintings, and a bedroom suite that would make a confirmed insonnolac pant for night to come.

Sight of the Davies mansion takes my mind back a few years.

Marion had severed connections with MGM, and signed with Warners. That magnificent dressingbungalow was moved bodily from the former studio to the latter, a distance of eighteen miles. As it rolled majestically across Hollywood's main boulevard, my companion of the day cried, "Good Lord, what's that?"

"Marion Davies' bungalow," I explained,

"enroute to its new studio." My companion eyed the spectacle soberly then murmured, "Heaven forbid that she ever sign a deal with an independent producer. That hotel would look silly in Poverty

Row." (Poverty Row is the street

of dilapidated studios where

"quickies" are made.)

I paid a brief visit to Miss

Davies' set, "Ever Since Eve" (intriguing title). Allen Jenkins was filming a scene in a drenching downpour of synthetic rain. He stood the test well enough, but his suit had withdrawn a few inches, and the comedian was bemoaning his state to the director. "I've got to have another suit," he said,

"because this one has shrunk."

"You mean shrunk don't you?" corrected the director. "No, I mean shrink," insisted Jenkins. "It ain't that much small."

Patsy Kelly was on this same set, and I am still chuckling over her crack at the expense of a talkative woman visitor. This woman rushed up to Miss Kelly and gushed, "Oh, and haven't I seen you in pictures? Yes, I'm sure I have. I've seen you several times!"

With a perfectly dead pan, Patsy

tech-tched, and murmured, "My my,

Isn't it a small world!"

The "Kid Galahad" set was a huge fight arena. Wayne Morris and Bill Haade (watch this New York stage actor, debuting in this picture; he is on his way) were slugging away, and a thousand extras were doing a Madison Square

Garden job of howling for blood.

The sequence ended and Morris stepped from the ring, his face swollen, one eye darkened, his nose a bloody mess. A woman reporter from a midwest newspaper

exclaimed, "Goodness, do they really do things so realistically in the movies." Wayne overheard her, "Yep, lady," he grinned, "and

I'm going to quit before I get all marked up." Then he smeared cold cream on his face and rubbed briskly. He came out of the towel without a scar, black eye, or bloody nose, all of which had been clever make-up.

Bette Davis and I were chatting on the "Kid Galahad" sidelines

when Mushy Callahan, ex-middleweight champion who is technically directing the fight scenes, stepped up. "Wanna see sumpin

funny?" he asked us. We nodded yes. With that encouragement,

Mushy funneled his hands and shouted, "Hey, Champ!" And fifteen

ex-pugs, playing atmosphere

in the picture, faced our way and shouted in unison, "Yeah, Mushy!"

The strong dramatic appeal in the range wars that swept the early west is indicated by Buck Jones'

latest starring picture, "Empty

Saddles," which opens at the State theater tomorrow, showing at three shows Friday and at continuous shows Saturday from 11

until 11:30. The complete program includes a Patsy Kelly comedy,

"Hill Thillies," a Betty Boop cartoon, "Happy You and Merry Me," a newsreel, and the final chapter of the serial, "The Fighting Marines."

In the feature picture, "Empty

Saddles," the old feud is revived by Bucw by accident. He merely intended to put on a sham battle for the benefit of his dude ranch guests, but finds himself with a real war on his hands. Ensuing developments show him in as exciting, breath-taking and danger-laden role as he has played in many a day.

Through the story runs an appealing romance, with lovely Louise

Brooks making a winsome heroine.

This picture, incidentally, marks

the pretty actress' return to the screen.

The State theater's club for kiddies will receive free ice cream after attending the 1 o'clock show

Saturday afternoon.

DEEP MYSTERY IN NEW SHOW AT BROADWAY

Romance against a baffling mystery background and in a colorful setting forms the theme for "China Passage," new RKO Radio thriller opening today at the Broadway theater with Constance Worth and Vinton Haworth in the leading romantic roles.

The two players portray a feminine customs agent and an American soldier of fortune, both intent on gaining an immensely valuable diamond which is stolen from Americans in Shanghai. The pursuit leads them and a group of suspects across the Pacific to San Francisco, where the mystery is finally cleared up after many exciting happenings.

TAXPAYERS TURN BLASE; PAY IN MATTER-OF-FACT MEIN, SO COUNTY HELD BACK TO NORMAL

By GEORGE HART

Two years ago, the Orange county taxpayer had to dig deep to find money for taxes.

A year ago he had it, and was deliriously happy over that fact. He paid his taxes with a flourish.

This year, he still had it; was used to the fact that he had it, so he paid his taxes matter-of-factly, without a lot of talk.

Delinquent List Low
So County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb says the depression is over and the county is back to normal.

Incidentally, the delinquent tax list, he estimates, will be even less than the low delinquency last year, which was only 5.51 per cent of the total tax charge, approximately $4,500,000. Lamb thinks it may go as low as five per cent this year.

The 5.51 per cent represented delinquency as of July 1, 1936, at the end of the two months period of "clean up," following the date of delinquency, April 20.

Quietly Optimistic
When Lamb closed his office last night, 84 per cent of the total tax charge was credited on his books as paid. The huge mass of unopened mail in his office, not yet credited on the books, will bring the total up around 95 per cent, he thinks.

"The excitedly optimistic attitude of the taxpayer last year, was noticeable in contrast to his manner of the year before," said Lamb. "This year there was another contrast, his attitude being quietly optimistic instead of excited. He's used to having money in his pocket by this time."

PASTOR USES SIGN LANGUAGE

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—On the second Sunday of each month the Rev. William comes to Fort Wayne for services at St. John's Lutheran church. What makes his service unique is the congregation—not one of the 25 can hear. The pastor is adept at sign language.

UMPIRES LEAD LONELY LIFE

Can't Go To Movies, Drink Or Even Have Friends

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 22.—The rain game is over the players must go beat down on the roof of the Lincoln hotel.

I knocked on the door of 1730 and a voice said, "come in." I went in and shook hands with "Tiny" Parker, youngest and smallest umpire in the National League.

The last time I had seen him he was working behind the plate in the exhibition baseball game at the Olympics in Berlin.

"The Giants and Dodgers are rained out today, all right," he said looking out the window into the wet, outside world. "Don't know how I'll kill the time. Glad you dropped in."

Life of Solitude
"The Giants and Dodgers are rained out today, all right," he said looking out the window into the wet, outside world. "Don't know how I'll kill the time. Glad you dropped in."

That is, he doesn't do things like other people do. Go to the movies, for instance. That's bad for the eyes and you need good eyes when guys like Hubbell and Blanton and Mungo have all their stuff and are kicking the corner.

Have a few drinks? Not for an umpire, Parker said. It might make them jittery and they have to do quite a bit of hopping around, on those close plays at second. Nobody can see through a cloud of dust when he has a head the size of Gehrig's batting average and hands that are wobbling like a Fitzsimmons knuckle ball.

There's another reason for an umpire not drinking, Parker explained. A hangover would make him doubt himself, and if he loses faith that leaves the ball players and the fans consider him a blind robber from start to finish.

Few friends drop in on an umpire on his days off. Because of the nature of his work his acquaintances mostly are ball players—and ball players and umpires don't mix. There's actually no rule against it, but the unwritten law of the diamond says that when the game is over the players must go one way and the men in the blue the other. They don't even stay at the same hotels when they can help it.

Judge Cases On Merit
What I've always wondered is what they players say to the umpire when he calls a strike on them and they turn around and start jabbering at him.

"Sometimes," Parker said, "they are beefing at me. If they smile when they call me what they sometimes do call me, I don't chase 'em, but if they get a little bit of a snarl in the voice I show 'em to the clubhouse. You know how it is—you've got to judge each case on its merits."

"But here's a funny thing. Lots of times when the batter turns around and sticks out his jaw he says something like this: 'Well, that was the pay-off pitch all right; a perfect strike; I could have ridden that one into the stands; kick me in the pants after the game, will you?'"

"As soon as a player starts talking to the umpire, though, the fans figure he is giving me the works and they start yelling for him to pour it on."

Parker told me something I had never thought of before. Presidents have been impeached, judges have been removed from the bench, governors have been ousted and ball players, themselves, are sometimes crooked (you remember the Black Sox, of course?) But never in the history of the major leagues has an umpire been even so much as questioned concerning his integrity.

"We're proud of that," Tiny said. (Copyright, 1937, by United Press)

OXY RUNNERS TRAIN AT FRANKLIN FIELD

PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 22.—Preparing for the annual Penn Relays tomorrow and Saturday, Coach Joseph Pipal drilled his Occidental College (Calif.) team under the protected east stands at Franklin field today. A steady rain yesterday made the track too soft for practice.

Pipal brought his men here from the Kansas Relays, giving them brief workouts en route at Washington, D. C., Tuesday. The Californian was optimistic about his team's chances in the quarter-mile relay.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Ralph Greenleaf of New York held the pocket-billiard championship of the world today for the 14th time in his career. Greenleaf won it last night by coming back from behind to defeat Andrew Ponzl, former champion of Philadelphia, 125-107, in 12 innings. He will get $1500 of the $8000 prize money.

Friday's Games
Santa Ana at Hoover: Long Beach

Making their first, last and only trip to San Diego's Hoover high school, Santa Ana's Saints play their next-to-last baseball game in the Coast Preparatory league tomorrow.

Coach Joe Koegler will take south a team that is definitely out of the pennant race—the title probably going to the survivor of a San Diego-Wilson conflict at Long Beach—although it has made all its games close. Hoover's modest position in the standings likewise is paradoxical. Only last week the Cardinals held the league-leading San Diegoans 4-3. Had Hoover won, Santa Ana still would be a contender.

Koegler will start against the Cards the same lineup that has worked in other conference games, Tommy Wilkins pitching. Ben Eyland will be back of the log since Joe Standifer will not be available again until the tussle at Wilson next week. O'Campo, Nitta, Partida and Barrett will make up the infield, with Wendorf, Ortega and McClure in the pastures.

It will put the finishing touch on the Dons' Eastern Conference dual meet schedule. Coach Cook, however, has a triangle meet scheduled April 27 with the Trojan Freshmen and Chaffey before he sends his athletes into the All-Eastern conference meet at San Bernardino May 1 and the All-Southern California association meet May 8.

The Dons took a licking Tuesday at Riverside because several of their ace performers were unable to go to the meet. Captain Bill Greshner was working and Ines Granadas had a late laboratory class. Harry Griffith, vaulter and jumper, was suffering from a leg injury. All are expected to be on hand tomorrow.

Pomona has shown little in dual meet competition to date and is not expected to give the Cookmen much trouble. Johnny Casey, a 9.9 second "hundred" man will be watched here with interest for it was he who gave the Dons football team plenty of trouble last fall with his line crashing tactics.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Naming of Joe Hunt of Los Angeles on the U. S. Davis cup team which meets Japan the end of month in San Francisco does not mean he will continue to remain on international squad, Walter Pate, chairman of the Davis cup committee, said today.

Hunt, 18, was selected along with Donald Budge of Oakland, Gene Mako, Los Angeles, and Frankie Parker, Spring Lake, N. J. Bobby Riggs of Los Angeles, the nation's fourth ranking player, was not named.

"Hunt was selected over Riggs because his early season record was better," Pate explained. "Davis cup rules say we must name two, three or four players 10 days before a series. Hence, the maximum was named."

"That does not mean Hunt—or any others—will be on the team for the next match should we eliminate Japan. It also does not mean that Riggs has no further chance of gaining the squad. If we win the Japanese series a new squad will be picked, on the basis of future play."

Four more promising candidates reported for Santa Ana junior college's spring football practice at Poly field yesterday, boosting the total signed up to 52.

Reporting for the first time were Lynn Montgomery, a strapping end from Orange's league championship squad. From Tustin came Bill Nelson, a back, and Gene Holderman, a tackle. Harley Nunan, a 225-pounder from Santa Ana hi, completed the newcomers.

NEW YORK, April 22.—An old baseball friendship will be renewed at the American Bowling Congress tonight when Everett Scott, former captain of the New York Yankees, and George ("Babe") Ruth meet again.

Scott is captain of the Grace Construction team of Fort Wayne, and Ruth will be his ace supporter among the spectators. Ruth and Scott started in major league baseball with the Boston Red Sox and went to the Yankees together.

Joe Hershiser Wins Pot With Sea Bass

Hauling in a 12-pound white sea bass, Joe Hershiser of 1815 North Flower street, well known Santa Ana sportsman and market operator, won a seven-dollar jackpot for the largest fish taken on the barge Valencia off Newport Harbor yesterday. He also caught a yellowtail.

Hershiser, T. J. Neal and B. J. Brooks, who all had good luck on the trip, report there are plenty of barracuda running off the Orange county coast-line, particularly on a mile-long stretch between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach.

FOUR RECORDS MAY FALL AT LEAGUE MEET

In union there is strength, and so Orange should regain the track and field championship of the Orange league before the newspapers are delivered tomorrow night.

Orange has "depth," more so than any of the other nine teams that will be battling at the Orange track, and that will tell the story. Newport Harbor or even Tustin could get more first places but Coach Stewart White has at his command more second, third and fourth places. They figure to decide the meet.

The Register's dope sheet gives the title to Orange with as many as 44 points. Newport Harbor should collect around 34. Tustin 22, Huntington Beach 12. Laguna Beach, Garden Grove, Brea-Olinda, Anaheim and the others are not expected to score heavily.

At least four meet records are in jeopardy in this list:

100 yd. dash—Morris, Anaheim, 1935, 9.9 sec.
220 yd. dash—Koenig, Huntington Beach, 1930, 22 sec.
440 yd. dash—Benebrake, Orange, 1934, 50.9 sec.
880 yd. run—Watkins, Tustin, 1930, 2 min. 3 sec.
1 mile run—Ochoa, Anaheim, 1935, 4 min. 42 sec.
120 yd. high hurdles—Newman, Tustin, 1931, 16 sec.
220 yd. low hurdles—Peters, Orange, 1930, and Douglas, Orange, 1935, 25.6 sec.
1 min. 31.2 sec.
880 yd. relay—Huntington Beach (Koenig, Vidal, Conrad, Greenwald) 1930, 1 min. 31.2 sec.
Broad jump—Parr, Tustin, 21 ft. 9 1/2 in., 1933.
High jump—Kelly, Newport Harbor, 1936, Baker, Anaheim, 1936, 5 ft. 9 3/4 in.
Shot put—McDonald, Excelsior, 48 ft. 7 1/2 in., 1929.
Discus throw—Henderson, Brea-Olinda, 122 ft., 1936.
Pole vault—Griffin, Newport Harbor, 12 feet, 1936.

Sure to go is Sam Henderson's own discus record of 122 feet, 10 inches. Henderson will beat it himself; Grover Miller of Orange can and maybe Walte Kelly of Newport Harbor.

Bement of Newport Harbor is likely to erase Phil Newman's 16-second hurdle mark that has stood six years.

Ted DeVelbiss of Anaheim will be gunning for Al Parr's mark in the broad jump, 21 ft.

Both Lloyd LeClair of Garden Grove and Orange's Miller have been dropping the 12-pound shot perilously near the oldest record standing on the books, Frank McDonald's mark of 48-7/8, established in 1929.

Several Class B standards are a cinch to fall before the onslaught of such runners as Edward Morris, sensational Huntington Beach freshman sprinter, and Berry and Barber of Garden Grove in the 660 and 1320. These three would be almost certain winners in the "A" division but they can qualify as "Bee" and will compete in that section on the assumption they will get further in the Southern California "B" meet than in the "open" events.

The dopesheet:

100—Ferguson (T), McClellan (NH), Streech (O), tie Worden (O), and Brandt (LB).
220—Streech (O), Ferguson (T), Brandt (LB), Burbridge (O).
440—Worden (O), Wolfe (T), Griffith (BO), Cruzan (O).
880—Francis (T), Burbridge (O), H. Welch (O), Gunther (O).
1 mile—Danielson (O), Hunn (LB), Boyd (NH), Sellers (T).
High hurdles—Bement (NH), Marsh (O), Spessard (NH), Talbert (HB).
Low hurdles—Kelly (NH), Haun (NH), Marsh (O), Reiser (LB).
Shot put—LeClair (GG), Miller (O), Amling (O), Tucker (HB).
Discus—Henderson (BO), Miller (O), Kelly (NH), Amling (O).
Broad jump—DeVelbiss (A), Tallor (HB), Haun (NH), Thompson (NH).
High jump—Cartrett (HB), Dawson (T), Henry (LB), Douglas (O), and Kelly (NH), all tie for third.
Pole vault—Smith (NH), Fairchild (GG), P. Francis (T), Beck (LB) Scovel (NH) Thompson (NH) and Witt (O) tie for fourth.
Relay—Orange, Newport Harbor, Huntington Beach, Laguna Beach.

Totals—Orange 44 1/2; Newport Harbor 34 1/2; Tustin 22; Huntington Beach 12; Laguna Beach 8 1/2; Garden Grove 8; Brea-Olinda 7; Anaheim 5.

YESTERDAY'S HEROES

TED MEREDITH
THE SCHOOLBOY OLYMPIC
SENSATION OF 25 YEARS AGO

NEW YORK, April 22.—The boy who was the 1912 Olympic Games in Stockholm and ruled the middle-distance runners from then until he went to France with the U. S. air corps. He was the boy wonder of the 1912 Olympic Games in Stockholm and ruled the middle-distance runners from then until he went to France with the U. S. air corps.

Well, about two years ago Ted was hired by the Czechoslovakian government to teach the youth of that nation how to run, jump and carry on in other ways in track and field affairs. Ted did all right, too, but just as the World War interrupted his own running career, so has the threat of a new European war halted his coaching career over there.

It seems that Czechoslovakia, peaceable itself, is right in the center of the ring and Ted isn't one to get himself all mixed up in somebody else's private war. So he upped and resigned and hustled back here.

But now he finds himself somewhat unemployed and that doesn't sit well with the energetic Meredith at all, at all. "I'd like to get a job in a hurry coaching some place," says Ted. "I like track—it's in my blood. And I like coaching. It's fun."

GOOD TEACHER
Whether or not he hitches himself to a coaching post, Meredith probably will resume his bonding business here in Philadelphia, where he makes his home.

He was in the dye manufacturing business right after his graduation from the University of Pennsylvania and after he was honorably discharged from the A. E. F. he became a bond salesman. Each time the track star's business went along, you might say.

PARIS, April 22.—Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass., former world's welterweight boxing champion, and his manager, Johnny Buckley of Boston, today were suspended for life by a special committee of the International Boxing Union.

Brouillard and Buckley will not be allowed to appear in any of the countries adhering to the union's rules.

The decision to suspend Brouillard and Buckley came after the I. B. U. studied Referee Falony's detailed report on a fight with Marcel Thil of France several months ago. Brouillard had knocked Thil out with a low blow.

The clubs will play around four times, Justice Morrison said.

In the league this year are the South Methodists, Montgomery Ward, Grand Central Market, Carpenters' Union, Commercial National bank and Elks.

Hasoutra, Famed Danseuse, To Present Program At Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, April 21.—Under auspices of the Laguna Beach Theatre Guild, a program of Oriental dances will be staged Saturday night, by "Hasoutra" famed danseuse now sojourning in Laguna Beach.

The dancer has had a colorful career, in the course of which she has appeared in London, Berlin, New York and other centers of culture. Steeped in the traditions of India, Hasoutra knows much of the art of portraying, in graceful dance movements, episodic stories of which the dance gives the outline.

The performance to be given at Laguna High school auditorium Saturday night, was arranged by consent of Hasoutra's management. Advance sales of tickets are gaily flying.

M. O. D. Official In Address

LA HABRA, April 22.—A. E. Isham, of Redlands, manager of the field department of the Mutual Orange Distributors told members of the La Habra farm center and of the Kiwanis club that the trend on citrus products for this year appeared to indicate better prices than last year. He further stated that there were many things which had to be considered, such as the possibility of strikes, storms and legislative measures that might effect the higher prices.

Mr. Isham was the speaker at the joint meeting of the two organizations Wednesday evening at a dinner meeting held at the Masonic temple, which was attended by about 80 members of the two groups and their ladies. L. O. Culp of the Fullerton Union High school was present and he presented pupils in violin and piano numbers. M. J. Pickering, a member of both organizations, was program chairman and R. W. Wheatley of the farm center introduced the speaker. When R. E. Launer, president of the farm center was introduced, he called a short business meeting of that group and C. J. Marks of the farm advisor's offices gave the directors' report.

Following the meeting several members of the farm center attended a pressure orchard heater demonstration at Pomona.

Parking Meters May Be Installed At Laguna Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, April 22.—Two men with parking machines, coin-slot operated, gave demonstrations of their mechanical gadgets before city council last night. The idea was, that the demonstrators wanted to aid the city in solving its parking problems; to reduce traffic hazards; to provide, in some unexplained fashion, space in which to spot an automobile, such parking-spots being reportedly scarce. And, in addition, to take a "split" of the manifold of tickets accruing from the operation of the parking-meters, two of which were shown to the city council.

Hailing, originally from Oklahoma City, the machines have been adopted—so one proponent said—by other towns and balliwick, thus bringing about an accrued revenue to the towns involved, and relieving the parking situation. The virtues of the two slot-machines were pointed in strong glowing colors by their respective salesmen, that the city council decided to look further into things. No samples were shown, of the increased parking space allegedly due to follow installation of the nickel-snatching gadgets. More will be heard, presumably, at next meeting of city council a fortnight hence.

Co-Ordinating Council Planned By Anaheim Clubs

ANAHEIM, April 22.—The first definite organization of the Anaheim Co-ordinating Council is expected to highlight the meeting called for Monday night at the Legion headquarters as the outgrowth of preliminary meetings when the need for such a group was discussed.

It will report Monday night, giving not only the candidates for office but also submitting a summary of objectives and a schedule for sub-committee groups with the work to be carried on by each.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m. Monday at the Legion clubrooms, basement of the city hall. Each community organization which at all concerns itself with juvenile work has been asked to send representatives.

Education Is Club Subject

After telling of the education trends, he opened the meeting up for discussion. Prior to his talk twenty children of the Bradford school sang a group of songs under the direction of Mrs. Florence Arnold, supervisor of music in the grammar schools.

Lagunans Aroused At Prospect Of "Honky-Tonk"; Petition State Board To Refuse Permit Request

By BILL KAY

LAGUNA BEACH, April 22.—Following a somewhat hectic day, in the course of which numerous citizens registered vocal and written protest against any idea of a honky-tonkish addition to the attractions at which Laguna Beach is justly proud, the city council swung into action on the matter of the pending permit, applied for by one "Martin Meiklejohn," asking for wine, beer, hard-liquor selling privileges, covering the Las Ondas cafe, and construed by many as the thin wedge-end of future dance-hall stuff.

As related in yesterday's "Register," the application was posted on a window of the office of Supervisor N. E. West. During yesterday afternoon, representatives of the State Liquor Control department of the Board of Equalization conducted an investigation of the local situation. In keeping with custom, no statements were issued by H. E. MacKenzie or his aide, Victor E. Hansen. Mr. MacKenzie, liquor control officer for the district embracing Laguna Beach, was seen conferring with Mr. West. Subsequently, the application, which had been covered by a sheet of paper, was removed.

Protests were registered last night, with city council, among them being one signed by a number of property owners who protested against any issuance of liquor permits covering the Las Ondas site; a letter was read from Rev. Raymond I. Brahams, in which the writer expressed his belief and confidence that the council would uphold its previously expressed attitude against granting of more liquor licenses. Mrs. Charlotte Frost, property owner and long time resident of the beach city, sent a letter on the subject. Representatives of Hotel Laguna were on hand ready to add a note to the volume of protests already on record. The city council endorsed, and the clerk was instructed to transmit the action of the council in endorsing, the petition requesting that the Equalization Board refuse the permit sought by the "Meiklejohn" interests. No proponent of the application was present at the council meeting which, apparently, rang the death knell on the aspirations covered by the application posted in Supervisor West's office. The application, incidentally, was removed, the situation reverts to status quo ante.

FAMED SPEED MERCHANT IN H. B. ADDRESS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 22.—Charles W. Paddock, known for a number of years as the world's "fastest numan," qualified last night as the world's most interesting speaker—at least that was the unanimous decision rendered by those who heard him speak at the athletic banquet given at the Golden Bear cafe here last night by the Windsor Club in honor of Coach Harry M. Shute's Orange League lightweight basketball champions.

The noted sprinter, who won the Olympic 200 meter title in 1920, delighted his audience with an exceptionally interesting address on athletics. His complete knowledge of all sports, easy command of interesting terms and wide variety of interesting sidelights of athletic history were a treat to the diners.

Team work, the ability to do better than your best, sportsmanship and a competitive spirit are the main essentials of athletic greatness, Paddock pointed out. He recalled many interesting incidents to illustrate his points.

In an article written a number of years ago, Paddock predicted the day would come when pole vaulters would climb 15 feet, high jumpers would soar 9 feet, millers would negotiate the four-lap event in 4 minutes, sprinters would run the 100 in 9 seconds flat and the 220 in 20 seconds. "They'll do even better," he said last night. "The day of the 16-foot pole vaulter and the 10-foot high jumper is not far removed. We will all live to see most of these predictions become a reality."

Paddock rates Dink Templeton as the greatest coach in track and field today. Does not consider Jesse Owens to be the greatest sprinter of all-time, but does rate the dusky star as the best of the 220 yard men. He tabs Jim Thorpe as the most accomplished performer in athletic history.

John T. Africa, Windsor Club president, presided over the meeting and introduced Mr. Paddock. The committee in charge, Harry Overmyer, Paul Bowen and Ted Bartlett, are to be complimented upon arranging such a splendid function.

Members of the championship basketball team honored were Bobby Gifford, Earl Conrad, Louis Gifford, Garvin Morse and Sherman Bross.

CHAPTER II
THE boys in the orchestra picked up their tiny megaphones and harmonized the chorus of their song. Lights, for the moment, were seductively dimmed. The wildly spirited tone of the music gradually became tender. Unconsciously, the younger dancers pressed their cheeks a little closer the older men tightened their hold about matronly waists. Bob Andrews, skirting the edge of the floor, maneuvered his partner through an arched doorway onto a quiet side porch.

"There!" he said with satisfaction. "It's good to get out of that din."

"The music is perfect, Bob," Joan corrected.

"Maybe so. But I was crazy to bring you here tonight."

His eyes worshiped the clear-cut profile of her face, the proud lift of her chin, and his heart quickened to this chance of being alone.

Joan raised her eyebrows in mild surprise. "Why?" she asked, smiling up at him. "Don't your neighbors like me?"

"Like you!" They walked over to the porch railing. Below them on the terrace, the evergreens, festooned with gay red and green and yellow lanterns, gleamed brightly, and the reflection of the lights lent a glow of colorful enchantment to the porch.

"Like you!" Bob repeated, linking her arm more tightly in his. "Every man in the place is ready to eat me alive for keeping you to myself this way."

Still looking down at her, he caught the beauty of that moment mirrored in her wide blue eyes.

"Joan, darling," he said with infinite tenderness, "do you know that you're the loveliest girl in all the world?"

"No. But I know that I'm the happiest—tonight." She smiled wistfully.

"Won't you share it, my dear?" Joan dropped her eyes under his intense gaze.

"I could be the happiest man in the world tonight," he went on. "You could make me, Joan."

When she did look up, there were tears glistening on her eyelashes.

"Bob, my dear! It's so impossible—so utterly—"

"Impossible to love me?"

SHE started, and for one brief instant, he read the answer in her eyes. Then his arms were about her, his lips seeking hers. At first she struggled against him, then slowly, in resignation to a force stronger than her will, she gave herself up to the full ecstasy of his embrace.

Inside, the music struck a livelier note; the dancing became more spirited; voices were raised in a babbling confusion. But here on the tiny porch, there were only two people in all the world; two who had just discovered the answer to the everlasting mystery of life.

After a moment, he released her. She drew back, frightened at herself, and caught her breath sharply. Her eyes, as she looked up at him, were wide and fearful.

"You do love me, Joan. Don't try to deny it."

"Oh, Bob, please listen to me. I can't love you. I mustn't. Won't you understand? I couldn't ever make you happy . . ."

He shook his head, contradicting her words. He smiled joyfully down at her.

"You have made me happy, my darling. I'm the happiest man in the world, as I told you I would be. I'm going to marry you, Joan. Do you hear me? I'm not asking you to marry me. I'm telling you, now. I'm going to marry you."

The music stopped abruptly. For a brief second there was a breath-

"Bob—" She stopped abruptly, looking over his shoulder toward the doorway. Sybil Hendry stood behind them, and her eyes were cold as Arctic ice.

As Sybil looked at him, her lips were smiling, and she forced a bright gaiety into her voice. "Am I intruding?" she asked.

She came forward, extending both hands to Bob. Her eyes were in the shadows, so that he could not read the fierce anguish hidden in their depths.

"Of course not, Sybil," Bob returned exuberantly. "And listen, you shall be the first to hear that Joan is going to marry me. Wish us luck, Sybil!"

"MARRY you?" She choked over the words, and her hand flew nervously to her throat. Quickly, however, she recovered herself. "Bob!" she exclaimed, and her tone was gay to the point of hysteria. "I'm simply overwhelmed with surprise!"

She did not wish him luck, she did not look at Joan. But Joan, too frightened and confused by herself at Bob's irrevocable announcement, did not notice the omission.

"I must tell your uncle, Sybil," Bob rushed on. "Know where he is?"

"No. No, I don't. Probably down at the bar . . ."

"We'll find him. Come along, Joan, I'm telling everybody before you try to back out."

Inside, the orchestra began "And Lang Syne," and the dancers were forming themselves into an enormous circle to sing the refrain. Merry voices called out cheery greetings to special acquaintances, and friendly hands reached out to draw elusive strangers into the singing circle. Sybil watched Bob weave his way in and out among them, his arms held protectively around the girl he had chosen in preference to her. She saw the glad light in his eyes as he refused to be drawn into the circle—the glad light which she had never been able to arouse.

It seemed as if all the world had suddenly stopped—as if the end of life had come as well. She was so cold that she shook like a leaf in the wind; yet in her brain a white-hot fire was raging—a fire of anger and jealousy and bitter hatred.

And through the mad flames that were her thoughts, one sentence rang out, loud and true and unforgettable:

"There's something in my life that I would rather die than have you find out, because if you did, you would hate me."

She had heard the words distinctly and unmistakably. Now they seared themselves indelibly into her brain.

Suddenly her white teeth flashed and she began to laugh, quietly at first, then so increasingly loud that those inside who heard her were a little startled.

P.-T. A. Officers To Be Installed Here Tonight

DAVIS PICTURE ENDS RUN TODAY

"Marked Woman," the Bette Davis starring picture, ends its local showing tonight at the West Coast theater. It was announced this morning.

"24 Hours Leave," a story of early 1917, with a soldiers' training camp as the background, will top the new double program opening tomorrow with the latest Hopalong Cassidy western action film, "Hills of Old Wyoming," as the second feature.

The story of the army picture deals with a swaggering young sergeant who bets that he will break-fast with the general and moreover have pancakes with him, although he has never met him. How he succeeds in winning the wager makes one of the funniest feature pictures ever produced and provides James Ellison with an exceptional film for his starring debut.

Others in the cast include Paul Harvey, who plays the general, Morgan Hill, Wally Maher, Andy Andrews, Pat Gleason, Ward Bond and the beautiful new leading lady, Terry Walker.

FULLERTON TO
ANNIVERSARY

When Sergeant Antonio Yorba heading a squad of Catalonian soldier-adventurers with Don Gaspar Portola on his first California expedition camped on the banks of the Santa Ana river near Olive in 1769 he knew he had found his future home.

From this original "discovery" of Orange county, years before the 13 colonies fought for freedom to become a new nation, dates the development of Orange county by the white man.

Fullerton Fete
Fullerton will be 50 years old May 14 and the 50 years of progress since Edward and George Amerige drove the first stake in the new townsite will be reflected in a background of pagentry which is to depict Orange county history from the first Portola expedition to the present time. The Golden Jubilee celebration in Fullerton will present a pageant, "Conquest of the Years," May 13, 14 and 15 in Fullerton union high school stadium.

More than 1000 persons are to appear in 12 historic episodes in a colorful presentation each of three nights. Spanish soldiers, ox carts or carretas of the hacienda days, life on the old Spanish ranchos in the day of the Donas, Fullerton's beginnings, progress and modern times, will be shown.

Land of Flowers
Opening with a prologue, a ballet presenting "Creation of the Land of Flowers," the first historic episode will be entrance of the Portola expedition. Hundreds of horses and riders will participate in the various scenes. Later days of the Basques, the vineyards which flourished and died, and coming of the Santa Fe railroad will be depicted.

Seating accommodations for nearly 6000 persons will be made available. Advance sale tickets for the historical feature, which is being staged under direction of the John B. Rogers Production company of Fostoria, Ohio, nationally known producers of pageants, is now under way.

In addition to the pageant, Fullerton will be host to pioneers of the county on a home-coming program at Commonwealth park, May 13. Women of Fullerton are to be hosts to women of Orange county and Southern California in a women's party to be held May 15.

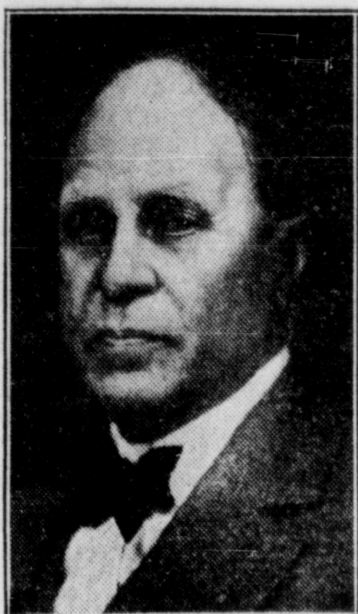

May 14, exact anniversary of the founding of Fullerton as a new city, will be "America day" and George Amerige, still active in the business life of the city he founded, will be given special honor.

VETERANS GROUP TO MEET

Sons and Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War will meet Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the M.W.A. hall for the regular monthly pot luck social gathering. The Sons will be in charge of the dining room and the Daughters will conduct the program. It will be C. F. Miller's last meeting as department commander.

FOUNDER

George Amerige, who is still active in the business life of the city he founded—Fullerton—will be highly honored at the Golden Jubilee celebration May 13, 14 and 15. "Conquest of the Years" is the title of the colorful pageant that will be presented.

VALENCIA HIGH SCHOOL NAMED

An addition of one secondary school in the Santa Ana area to the list of accredited schools, was reported today by the United States office of education in Washington, D.C.

In a bulletin issued to correct the outstanding list of accredited education reported the Valencia high school at Placentia added to the list.

This is one of 20 added in the state. Seven schools in California were removed from the list, none of them in the Santa Ana area. Accrediting of new schools is based on increased curricular requirements.

Additions are not dictated by the education office, but are determined by standards set up by regional and state education associations.

St. Agnes Guild
Dance Planned

ANAHEIM, April 22.—Mrs. Ed Howell, director of St. Agnes guild of St. Michael's Episcopal church, will head the hostess committee for the dance to be given Saturday night at the Santa Ana country club.

Serving in the receiving line with her will be past directresses, including Miss Dorothy Yungbluth, Miss Frieda Lumsden, Miss Kathryn Adams, Mrs. Earle T. Jackson and Mrs. Hume West. Ceramics To
Be Reviewed
At Museum

From April 28 to May 23 the Exposition Park museum in Los Angeles will show an exhibition of ceramics, with all sections of the United States represented in the display.

The play, which is being sponsored by the art council of the Southern California Art Teachers' association, is from Syracuse museum in New York state where it was assembled, and represents the prize winning as well as other ceramic production accepted by five of the leading art critics of the eastern United States.

Products of Home
The exhibition represents the work of living ceramic artists and includes all forms of ceramic products of the home. When it was assembled for this tour of United States, an invitation came from Denmark to send a similar exhibition over there. It has also been shown in Sweden, Finland, and in England in a gallery in Stokes-on-Trent, the home of famous Wedgwood china. After leaving Los Angeles the exhibit will go to San Diego, San Francisco and Seattle.

Glen Lukens, director ceramics department, college of architecture and fine arts, has said, "The products of the hand must reflect the spirit and dignity of fine things made by machines, so that these hand made articles can take their place along with that particular type of design that comes from the machine."

Stimulate Art
This will be demonstrated in the exhibition. Ellen Key in Sweden said that the person who designed the most beautiful beer bottle did a greater human service than the one who discovered the North Pole.

"Our job now in America is not to design Swedish beer bottles, but to do some for ourselves and in our own way, and to know when they are beautiful; and the responsibility of the public is to stimulate young American artists by backing them up when they produce such fine things as this exhibition will show."

LOCAL GROUP TO ATTEND PARLEY

Guy J. Gilbert, president, and John McCoy, president-elect, of the Santa Ana Rotary club, will head a delegation of the organization that will attend the district convention at Hollywood next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, it was announced today.

Others who plan to go include Ralph C. Smedley, secretary, C. W. Warren, S. H. Finley and Nelson Visel.

Finley, who with Nels Edwards of Orange, will represent Orange county at the Rotary International convention at Nice, France, is completing special arrangements for the international meeting.

Prices Rise for California Fruits

California fruits, particularly oranges, lemons, and pears, are tending to establish seasonal high prices these days on eastern auction markets. The prices being obtained on this year's navel crop again demonstrates the ability of California growers through their Cooperative to recover quickly from an apparent disaster. Keeping faith with the auction buyer and eastern consumers by eliminating damaged fruit is returning a golden harvest.

Typical of the scenes enacted daily are buyers (above) inspecting fruit on display floor prior to sale, and an auctioneer (right) receiving competitive bids.

The fruit and vegetable auction marketing system, observing this year its 110th anniversary, returns more than $130,000,000 annually to growers and supplies 40,000,000 consumers. Auction markets are situated in Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis.

HOW FAR DO YOU WALK? MISS
LILES GIVES REAL ANSWERS

How far do you walk?
"This is one of the questions that is discussed in all Farm Home Department meetings this month as an important introduction to the need of special care in selecting shoes that will help maintain health and efficiency for the individual 'marathon' in which the human race is participating."

Tells About Feet

This was the statement today of Miss Frances Liles, of the local agricultural extension service. She urged everyone to realize that the foot is the only means of locomotion for which there are no spare parts, yet many people deliberately neglect the foundation of their future health, comfort and happiness.

"They fail to give their feet a reasonable amount of care. Good feet must have straight bones and good muscle tone. If we are to grow good feet we must have food for bone growth and must select healthy and shoes which will allow the feet to grow and develop normally."

"When walking we should follow some simple rules in order to use the feet as nature intended: toe straight ahead; grip the ground with the toes and push ahead with a spring; hold the neck and head erect with chin low; have the abdomen flat; have the chest broad, deep and flexible; keep the hips level and back straight."

Real Results
"The following results have been obtained by having people in various parts of the country wear a pedometer while going about their daily duties:

1. A housekeeper, without leaving the house, walks every year a distance equal to that from Boston to San Francisco.
2. The frail little girl at school had run, walked and played a pedometer account of 11.1-2 miles; while a boy, more vigorous, averaged 15 miles daily.
3. A farmer traveled behind the walking plow an average of 251-2 miles a day.

Plays Added
To Program
Here Friday

As plans progressed today for the eleventh annual Southern California Tournament of One-Act Plays in Santa Ana Ebell clubhouse Friday and Saturday nights, announcement was made today of two additions to Saturday night's original program schedule.

The first addition will be a competitive play, "A White Christmas" by John Riddell, to be presented by the Mad Hatters of Los Angeles. The other two entries that night will be "Portrait of the Artist's Wife" by the Gold Hill Players of Monrovia and "Evening Dress Indispensable" by Pasadena Drama Guild, as announced originally.

"Treasurer's Report"
The second addition to Saturday night's program will be Robert Benchley's hilarious character sketch, "The Treasurer's Report", to be given by John Swarthout, member of Santa Ana Community Players. This will be presented while the judges are making their decision on the Tournament entries of the two nights. Completing Saturday night's program will be the courtesy play, "The Wonder Hat" to be given by Touchstone Drama Workshop of U. S. C. The adult drama clash of San Bernardino junior college, which was to have given a non-competitive play Friday night, has withdrawn. The program for that night will be composed of "Afterwards" by San Bernardino Modern Mummies; "The Bishop's Candlesticks" by Burbank Theater Guild; "The Locked Chest", Riverside Community Players.

Awards Planned
Topping the list of prize awards for the Tournament is the $50 Charles A. Riggs memorial cash award, donated by Mrs. Charles A. Riggs in memory of her late husband, who was one of the founders of Santa Ana Community Players 17 years ago. Accompanying the cash prize is a cup donated by William C. Lorenz. Mr. Lorenz also is donating a cup to accompany the second prize, which is $25, donated by the Santa Ana Register.

Offered for the best comedy production is the Julia Beaumont Cummings cup, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waterman of Monrovia, Margaret Cummings Kessler and Julia Cummings Williams. This cup is a memorial to the late Julia Beaumont Cummings, who was the chief instigator in starting the Southern California Tournament of One-Act Plays 11 years ago.

In addition to these play awards are two individual awards offered by Santa Ana Community Players to the best actor and the best actress in the entire Tournament. These awards are copies of the Burns-Mantle "Best Plays of 1935-1936".

Paramount Scouts
Special features in connection with the Tournament will include round table conference Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in Ebell clubhouse lounge. Miss Cloyd Duval Daizell will talk about the Poetry Play-

HUNTS REDFERN

Ruth Rowe, 23, winsome canoeist of Chicago, looked over a map of South America, above, as she announced she would accompany Mrs. Paul Redfern on an expedition from New York, April 25 to search for Redfern, who vanished with his plane into the British Guiana jungles 10 years ago.

house of U. S. C., which is the first Poetry Playhouse in America, and with the exception of John Masefield's Poetic Theater at Oxford, the only playhouse in the world devoted to poetry.

The round table program will include a talk by Olive Hinsdell, Paramount producer who formerly was connected with the Little Theater of Dallas, Tex. He has assured the Players that Paramount Scouts will be present for both nights of the Tournament.

NAME NEW CHIEF

YORBA LINDA, April 22.—Fred Earl has been elected as chief of the Yorba Linda Firemen's association. He has had the record of being either chief or assistant chief since the organization was formed. Other new officers are Kenneth Loucks, assistant chief; Sam Gilman, president; John Loucks, vice president, and Valdo Smith, secretary.

$58,000 PAID
BROKERS' AIDES
HERE IN YEAR

A payroll of $58,000 was reported to the census bureau by 18 Santa Ana insurance offices for the year 1935, according to a bulletin issued today in Washington, D. C.

In addition, 20 combined insurance and real estate offices in Santa Ana and a total payroll of $81,000 for the year, the bureau said. These payroll figures covered 53 employees in offices dealing exclusively in insurance, and 29 employees in combined insurance, and real estate offices.

Voluntary Reports
They did not include compensation of 16 proprietors and firm members of strictly insurance offices, nor income to 23 partners or owners of combined insurance and real estate businesses.

Taken as part of the business census, the tabulation of insurance offices was purely voluntary, and some insurance brokers declined to cooperate with the bureau by giving details of their businesses, it was reported. For this reason, the figures given do not include the entire insurance business of Santa Ana, the bureau said.

Payrolls given include not only salesmen, but all clerical and other workers not classifiable as proprietors or firm members, according to the bureau.

WHISKY AS FACE LOTION

STOCKTON, Cal. (UP)—A barber was cited before the state board of equalization for the alleged possession of 500 gallons of untaxed wine and a quantity of "jacks" whiskey. He told the board he used the latter for face lotion after shaving.

The state of Kansas, now a land of rolling prairies, still bears evidence of a past that was vastly different. There are two known volcanoes within the state, with surrounding rocks which once were molten lava.

We Built for Self

By Helen Welshimer

WE built for self—on plains that were encompassed by petty hills, we tried to hold the sun; With armor bright as any April morning. We did not fight; we thought the battle done. We had been told so often that all highways Went into Rome—but we forgot to climb. Small wonder that we watched our vision fading Across a world that might have been sublime.

WHEN men forget to dream, there comes Golgotha; A wounded hill shall purge their hearts that they May build again with strong and lasting courage; Grief must precede the resurrection day. Oh when it comes . . . when battle drums are dying Along green ridges that foretell the spring, As we accept the far trails may we never Forget, dear God, we've had our christening!

The Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

O. O. McIntyre, speaking of food in his column recently, said, that if any New York restaurant were to put "pot likker," mustard greens and soupy hash on the menu, the police reserves would probably be called out to handle the crowd. I believe the gentleman is right. . . . we run after too many strange culinary gods, forgetting, in our zeal for something new, to dust off the good old stand-bys and give them their rightful break.

Baked and boiled custards belong in this class, but try and think when you have eaten a decent custard, or served one at your own table for dessert? Really, they are very simple to make, the trick is in baking them with gentle heat or boiling them until the custard coats the spoon like heavy cream.

For boiled custard beat 2 whole eggs with 2 egg yolks, 1-3 cup sugar and a pinch of salt. Don't overbeat them, just enough to mix nicely. Over the eggs, pour 3 cups of hot milk, stirring as you pour. Now, put the kettle over simmering water, and stir constantly until the custard coats the spoon like thick cream. Take off the fire, add a teaspoon of vanilla and pour into a bowl. Chill as soon as cool enough to go into the refrigerator.

Baked custards take the same ingredients. Have custard cups heated and well brushed with butter. Set custards in a pan of warm water and bake in a 240 degree oven until firm at edges, but creamy and soft in center.

Old-fashioned Caramel Custard requires the caramelizing of a half-cup of brown sugar, a tiny bit of water added to melt the caramel, and a good chunk of butter. Pour a big spoonful into each cup before the custard goes in.

All the calory history of custards may be found in our big Calory list. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and one of your best recipes for a free copy.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Chicken Pancake Rolls
Batter
2 eggs beaten to thick froth
1-2 teaspoon salt and
1-2 teaspoon baking powder
sifted with 1-2 cup flour
1-2 cup milk to mix batter

Chicken Filling
2 cups chopped cooked chicken
1 cup chicken gravy, well heated.

The batter is a thin 'suzette crepe' batter. Flow a big spoonful into a buttered pan, making each pancake the size of a large saucer. Slip each cooked cake onto a flat pan, spread with the thick chicken mixture, roll up and stack in a warm oven.

When you have enough, arrange them on a fire-proof platter or pan, dot with butter and slip under the broiler to brown and crisp a trifle.

Canned chicken is just right for this recipe, or you might boil chicken livers and gizzards, ORANGE, April 22.—Planning for a drive to raise $900, members of the Y. W. C. A. board met last night at "Y" headquarters changing the date of the annual drive from October to April of each year. The sum set for the drive will be all that will be asked until next April, it was stated.

Dates for the campaign are to be from April 26 to April 30 inclusive. Mrs. Fred Bewley, vice president and membership chairman, explained a new plan by means of which those contributing to the drive may become members of the organization, if they so desire, without additional expense. If the plan meets with the approval of subscribers to the campaign, an adult group will be formed, it was stated.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

WARRING "STEP-FATHER" OF GERMANY

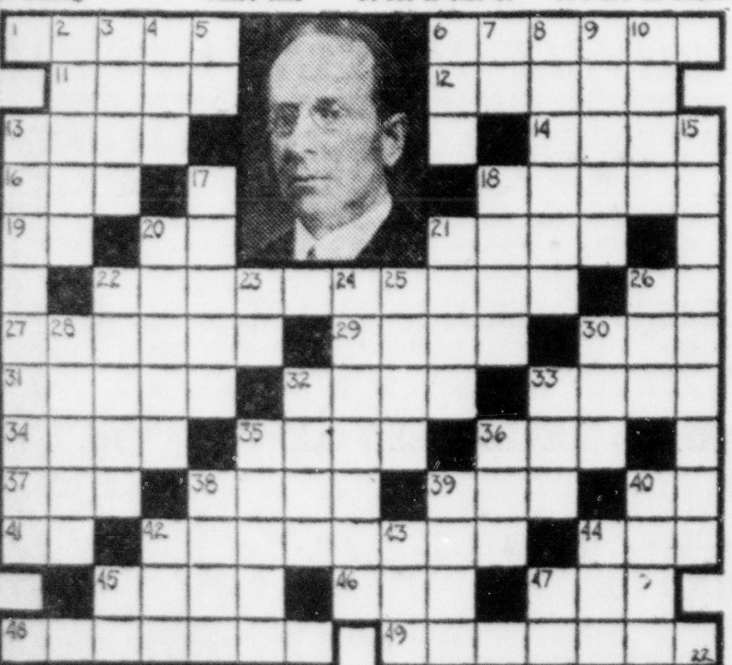

EUROPE was broken up into small duchies and principalities in the early 14th century, when it first began to be organized by King Charles I into what later became the German empire. He was son of the blind King John, first of the Luxemburg dynasty which ruled Bohemia until 1437. He became King of Bohemia upon his father's death at the Battle of Crecy, in 1346, and immediately was crowned King of Germany. Then began his series of wars that brought additional lands and greater power to him and his descendants. Thus he spread his influence across the Alps to Italy, and into Bavaria and the Tyrol. By these acts, according to the great Emperor Maximilian I, Charles became the "stepfather" of the empire. Yet he is regarded more as the "father" and builder of Bohemia, for he raised that country to a high state of prosperity. When he died, in 1378, at the age of 62, he divided his possessions among his three sons. For his part in the development of the Duchy of Luxemburg, he is remembered on a stamp issued by that little country late in 1935.

STATE SAVANT TALKS TO JOINT CLUB MEETING

Dr. Walter Dexter, state superintendent of education, first vice president of Lions International and former executive secretary to Governor Merriam, was the principal speaker yesterday at a joint meeting of Santa Ana service clubs held at Masonic temple. The meeting was arranged by the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, and the president of that organization, R. B. Newcom, presided.

Introduced by Program Chairman George Wells, who is president of the Santa Ana school board, Dr. Dexter discussed the part played by education in our state government. He outlined briefly the general set up of our state government, showing the relationship between the department of education and all other governmental divisions.

Education First
"Education ranks first in the business of the state," Dr. Dexter said. "It has first claim on the treasury, and spends annually over $130,000,000. This sum is raised through the sales tax.

"Because education is considered of such importance in California, and because means for the support of education have been provided, it was possible for this state to establish an enviable record during the years of the depression. In other states, it was necessary, due to lack of funds, to close many of the schools. In California, however, not one single school was closed during the trying years because of lack of sufficient funds."

Develops Ideals
The speaker went on to point out that in America, the ideal of education is to develop in man an ideal which will make him conduct his life in such a way that it may be looked to as a law for living for all mankind. The first business of education, he said, is to make for satisfactory living on the one hand, and good government on the other.

Clubs represented at the meeting today included Kiwanis, the chess club; Lions, Rotary, Twenty-Thirty and Civitan. The musical portion of the program was presented by the Kiwanis chorus under the direction of Whitford Hall.

Officers of New League To Meet

gram is now under consideration by principals and coaches.

It was decided to maintain a softball league this year with all schools but Huntington Beach, Valencia and Brea competing.

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

THE PRICE IS NOT TOO HIGH

Go to a breeding kennel. Pick out the puppy or grown dog you like best. Ask the price. It is higher than you had planned to pay. Why?

A breeder buys a young female purebred dog, for a stiff price. He feeds and cares for her for months, with no cash returns. Then she is bred at a stud fee running anywhere from $20 to $100. After 63 days of intensive care and expensive feeding, six pups are born. Two of them die, during the first week. Often the whole litter dies during the first week, or never is born. For two months after weaning, the breeder must pay good money, in quantities, for special costly food for the pups. Perhaps another or more of them dies.

Very good. When the pups are from nine weeks to three months old, you drop in at the kennels to buy one of them. The breeder has paid for the dam's purchase price and for her food and care, for the past year or more. He has paid the stud fee. He has paid, high, for the food and care of the pups. (Often, all the pups die, or are not born, and there is a whole year's feed bill to pay for the dam, with no cash returns at all.)

Remember all this. Remember also the "overhead" for the entire kennels. Are you going to pay a fairly high price for one of the remaining pups? Or is the breeder to go broke? Often it must be one thing or the other.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 22.—(UP)—Stocks declined fractions to two points in a dragging market that gained momentum after the close of the market. Some special issues had losses ranging to 7 points.

Inactivity of the market to carry through the advance that started late Wednesday was disappointing to traders, who withdrew and permitted the market to sag under its own weight.

Wider losses came in firm equipment shares. Deere & Co. broke 3 in fairly active selling. J. I. Case was fractionally lower. Oliver farm equipment lost almost 2 points and International Harvester lost more than 2.

Motor shares were under pressure despite reports that production this week is around record levels established in 1929. Chrysler broke to around 2 points more than 2 points loss. General Motors lost more than a point while Du Pont, which gained 5 points Wednesday, broke 3 points to 135.

VERY ATTRACTIVE, because of the trees and shrubs and flowers, this little old home may just appeal to you. It's old, yes, but it's comfortable, because it's livable. There's lots of room for lounging, reading, studying or just chatting, and visiting. There are 2 bedrooms, the plumbing is brand new, a little electric refrigerator is built in. You'll find it within walking distance of downtown on a very large lot. But because of its older construction and because the family owners want to move away right soon they are going to let someone have this pleasant home place for just $2250. We repeat, it may just appeal to you. No. 3012

A FINE RECORD

A press dispatch reports the celebrating of an anniversary of "Soda Ash Johnny" Horan for 82 years of continuous service with the Milwaukee railroad.

This is a wonderful record and both the employee and the employer are to be congratulated on the continued service for 82 years.

Mr. Horan is 99 years old and still on the job. His work has been changed to suit his age—something that any honest employer should always endeavor to do.

KIDNAPER FREES BOY

As we read the story of a kidnaper releasing his little 4-year-old victim shortly after kidnapping him, and saying he would rather starve than to make the parents suffer, we marvel at the quirks a human mind will take.

Imagine the nerve, hard-heartedness and barbaric instincts a man must have to plan and perpetrate such an act, even though he is goaded by the pangs of hunger. Then within a few short hours his conscience changed those despicable characteristics into honor and uprightness.

May that conscience continue to guide the man in the right direction.

PROFIT TO SANTA ANA

Unlimited and favorable publicity for Santa Ana will accrue from the aeronautical show that will be held in this city on June 20.

Already Dale Deckert, chairman of the aviation committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce is receiving inquiries about the show and publicity also is being broadcast. In fact Western Flying, leading aeronautical magazine of the West carried a long article about the Santa Ana show and national air magazines are asking for information on which to base articles.

More than 30 new planes valued at more than half a million dollars will be on display here. These in addition to nearly 200 privately owned planes that will visit the show from all parts of the West.

Three thousand licensed pilots in California shortly will receive invitations to come here for the show and participate in the gigantic free barbecue. Of the 3000 invited it is believed that at least 1000 pilots will come here by plane or automobile.

The Chamber of Commerce wisely looks to the future in the establishment of an aviation committee. And this committee is acting wisely in attracting attention of air-minded persons to Santa Ana which has one of the finest airports in the Southland.

TAXES ONLY HALF OF GOVERNMENT EXPENSES FOR THE LAST SEVEN YEARS

Chairman Byrd, Democrat, Virginia, of the Senate Committee on Governmental Reorganization, said today a survey by the Brookings Institute indicated "greatly increased fixed charges" on the Federal Treasury "might be expected for a long time."

The Brookings survey showed that government departments have grown so rapidly that eight structures as large as the Empire State building, New York, would be required to house their Washington staffs alone, Byrd said. Fifty-two similar skyscrapers would be needed to accommodate Federal employees working outside the capital, he added.

Since 1930, the debt has been doubled and Federal expenditures in each year have exceeded revenues approximately 100 per cent. For seven consecutive years, for the government to be able to pay only one-half of the expenses and the balancing of the budget not yet in sight, is something that should cause alarm to every citizen who has any conception of how governments have fallen in the past.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON

NEW YORK CITY—According to a recent army order, the general of the armies (Pershing), the chief of staff (Craig), and the field marshal of the Philippine Islands (MacArthur), may design and prescribe their own uniforms.

This country has always seemed opposed to exalted military rank and fuff and feathers. The highest grade ever permitted is that of general. Even Pershing, Grant and Pershing were never considered for the rank of field marshal. The title given Pershing, "General of the Armies" is an innovation.

From the Civil war to the World war, no officer ever held the rank of general. Sherman, Sheridan and Douglas MacArthur's father were only lieutenant-generals. The rank of general was revived in 1918, and conferred upon Pershing for life—and on Peyton March for the period of his incumbency as chief of staff. Any chief of staff is now a general but, only as long as he is acting in that capacity.

No, we don't seem to like exalted military fanfare. But my classmate, Douglas MacArthur put one over. As a close personal friend of the brilliant Manuel Quezon, president of the new Philippine government ("Casey" to close friends), he got himself loaned to the budding commonwealth as military adviser and administrator. Then he got himself named by that government, field marshal. And now he is going to design and prescribe his own uniform. If he uses as much imagination in it as he did in fixing his own title above that of the great military heroes of our classic past, it is going to be a pip.

I am not casting any aspersions in the direction of Douglas. He is one of the most brilliant men in public service. He doesn't know the name of fear. In Pershing's Vera Cruz expedition, he duplicated a feat performed for Winfield Scott by Robert E. Lee—scouted around behind the whole Mexican position in disguise—just about the most perilous stunt imaginable.

Sent to France on an educational trip before our troops got there, he volunteered to join a British trench raid and captured himself a German colonel. By incredible fighting and marching he almost beat the French to the capture of Sedan. I haven't before me the exact wording of his citation for the Distinguished Service Cross, but it was something like this: "On a field where gallantry was the rule his gallantry was the most conspicuous."

And it was. There was one brigadier whose p. c. (post command) was always in the first wave across the top—one general who will not die in bed if there is half a chance to die elsewhere. He is a great ability to perfect gallantry and as superintendent of West Point and chief of staff, left

IL DUCE DISCUSSES DEMOCRACY

In an interview with Mussolini on armament limitation, Mussolini asked the question, "What is Democracy?" and as the correspondent says, he then went on to answer the question himself.

"If democracy means a government for the greatest good of the greatest number of people, then Italy of today is the greatest democracy. Our system is not only conceived but actually functions to promote the welfare of happiness of the people. Those so-called democracies whose submerged tenth are left to shift for themselves, have no right to throw stones at us."

We think the last part of the definition is rather vague, as we do not know of any democracies "whose submerged tenth are left to shift for themselves."

Certainly we, in the United States, are not letting the unfortunate shift for themselves. It seems to be the big problem of all governments to know how to handle that part of the population which cannot adjust itself to society by producing something which society wants in order to trade for other needed things. We believe the first part of Mussolini's definition of democracy is sound but we do not see the connection with the last part.

This certainly is nearer the proper definition of democracy than allowing the voting majority to determine all questions, such as: at what a man may work, how hard he is allowed to work, the number of hours he dare work, how much he dare own, how much he dare produce, how much profits he dare have and how much he dare lose.

Democracy does have a right, however, to say how much a citizen dare destroy but never does it have a right to say how much he dare produce or manage.

TRUE EDUCATION

Everett Dean Martin of Claremont College, president of the American Adult Education Society, had some very interesting things to say on education in a series of lectures under the sponsorship of fifty administrators, principals and instructors of the adult evening schools of Los Angeles.

Dr. Martin says that one of the few hopes he knows of is that there is in America, potentially at least, a minority of thinking people scattered throughout all classes. At least a number of people in this country resist false sentiment and appeals and stand on their own feet.

He remarked further on education, as follows:

"I believe there is a public in America which is being ignored by our publicists, by our politicians. That public wants true education. Such education is not propaganda. It is the very opposite.

"Such an education won't be the kind of thing that is frequently called education now, with its relaxation of thoroughness and mental discipline, with its tendency frequently to hold out an elusory and thoroughly vulgar hope of a mechanized Utopia.

"This education recognizes that society only can be improved and its achievements of the past saved by reasonable people. There is no other way. Regimented barbarians cannot achieve a satisfactory social future."

MORE REGIMENTATION

The Welsh bill was passed in the State Legislature Tuesday, requiring two years of college work of candidates for the state bar.

It is hard to understand why people should have to attend college before they can become lawyers if they have read law and can pass the examination.

It is just more red tape—more regimentation.

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

We were eating breakfast and pop was looking at the paper and drinking coffee at the same time, and ma was sitting there with a expression as if she was thinking of having to cook dinner herself on account of being Nora's day off, saying to pop, I've had some very good reports on that new Spick and Span restaurant that I was telling you about last week, Willyum.

I haven't had such a good time at a restaurant for years, pop said, and ma said, Why Willyum you've never even eaten there.

I looked through the big plate glass window the other day, pop said. There's nothing more amusing than a lot of blushing people being fed rite out on the main street, but that wasn't the really comical part. It seems they serve paper napkins, he said, and ma said, O I know you have an unreasonable prejudice against paper napkins.

I wouldn't of missed these paper napkins for the world, pop said. They must be made of an even more slippery substance than usual, although I didn't believe such a thing possible even with all the resources of modern science. Anyway, they kept sliding off the peoples laps onto the floor like a heavy snowstorm, and the waiters kept ducking down like a troop of trained monkeys to pick them up again, he said, and ma said, Now Willyum, really, I mean really, such exaggeration.

Not at all, and the best is yet to come, pop said. One waiter finely got so grobby ducking after napkins that he bumped his head against the bottom of a table on his way up, and this made him so furious that he knocked the whole table over with everything on it, and all the other waiters immediately saw the bewty of the idea and knocked their tables over too. Wowee, what a site, he said, and ma said, O, what shall we have for dinner? and pop said, Liver and onions mite be a nice change.

We had liver and onions last night, so you know very well the idea is not even discussable, ma said. A nice steak mite be nice, she said.

The result being we had veal chops.

situation is that LeRoy has not been idle during his two years of retirement. LeRoy can now recognize "r-a-i" when he sees one, which may be embarrassing all around if he returns to the lot.

I believe he will be wise if he abandons that ambition, and, instead, offers himself as a scenario editor.

It Seems to Me
by
HEYWOOD BROUN

According to a dispatch from Hollywood, Baby LeRoy is going to attempt a comeback. Naturally his pals will be rooting for him, but he has been out of the industry for two years.

Still, if he has led a clean life and kept himself in trim there is a chance that he may reverse the usual motion picture rule and achieve a second blooming. He was 3 when he retired, and now he has turned 5.

Obviously LeRoy can hardly hope to be cast again in the same sort of straight roles in which he originally achieved success. His days as a Hollywood juvenile are definitely over, but there may be a future for him as a character actor.

A Question of Material
After all, his retirement was wholly voluntary, and the general explanation of his decision to step back into private life was that the scenarioists were not furnishing him with sufficient mature material. It is understood that toward the end of his career he complained bitterly that he could not find an efficient gag fan.

There is nothing in the rumor that Will Hays prevailed upon him to take a long vacation in order to allow an ugly scandal to blow over. It has now been established LeRoy can match his private life with that of any other player in the studios of California.

The flimsy charges which circulated a couple of years ago were the product of an unscrupulous blackmail ring, and I believe the extra girl has since been sent to prison as a participant in a badger game. LeRoy comes back to the silver screen with an untarnished record.

Keeping Up With LeRoy
As a matter of fact, the success or failure of his comeback will depend largely upon circumstances largely outside his own control. He has aged two years since his last appearance, and I understand that he looks even older on account of income tax worries. The real problem, which only time can solve, is the question of the speed with which the motion picture art is evolving.

Of late there has been a great amount of boasting among the magnates, directors and supervisors that the cinema is well on its way to furnish more adult entertainment than was known in the past. This effort to raise the intelligence quotient of both actors and patrons is known as the five-year old plan. Will Hays, in all his speeches, has attempted to exemplify and exploit the idea, but there remains some fear that the distributors may find the notion too radical for their purposes.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

PERSONAL IMPORTANCE

"Go ahead, Foster, and take stair three."

Foster, headman on the line, nodded, gave the signal to his line and marched the children down the hall, turned right and took stair number two.

The teacher, standing by to watch the dismissal, shouted sharply, "Class Seven, Halt." The marching line stopped. "Take stair three, John."

The boy at the head of the remaining group turned left and lead his followers down stair three. The teacher hurried to stair two where the first part of the line was struggling to pass a class on its way up the same stairs.

"Single file to next landing, boys," said he cheerfully. "Class Seven stand where you are, single file."

When confusion was ended the teacher said, "You were to take stair three, Foster. How did it come you took two?"

"It was just ahead of me so I took it. I didn't know why I shouldn't. I thought maybe you hadn't thought of it. We usually go down two."

"Yes, but the yard schedule was changed today. That is why I told you to take three. Go ahead."

Of course the teacher could have stormed instead of explaining. He could have demanded in loud and outraged tones why his orders had not been obeyed. He behaved with teacherly intelligence. He took for granted that the leader had made a mistake, set him right showed him that his orders had reason behind them and proved his right to be obeyed. The leader felt ashamed of his plight and instead of resenting the teacher's orders and attitude felt a new respect for them. The experience taught him something, strengthened the teacher's authority, made class spirit finer.

Some teachers and parents fail to use such opportunities to strengthen their relations with the children. Their self-importance gets in the way. "I told you what to do," is their response to such a mistake, and all their emphasis is on the "I." That makes a deal of trouble.

Any attitude that expresses selfishness, authority for authority's sake, fondness for the feeling of power over another, is bound to bring out resistance. What is needed is cooperation. Anything else is waste.

How much of such waste there is in homes and schools we can only guess at from the casual experiences that come to us who have to do with children. Sometimes a school stops work because of a feud between a teacher and a family whose children attend the school. Whole communities have been stirred into excitement and enmity because someone felt his authority slighted, or his pride hurt. The elders outdo the children in childishness.

Take all such happenings impersonally. Don't let feeling mix the brew of anger that will bring healthy, helpful association to an end. Call on your sense of humor. See past the mistake to the child's point of view. Start where he stands and go along with him in spirit and there will be no such battles.

Mr. Patri has prepared a special booklet (No. 301) entitled, "Obedience," in which he tells parents how to cope with the difficult problems of disobedience. Send for it, enclosing ten cents. Address your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, The Bell Library, care of this newspaper, 247 West 43rd street, New York, N. Y.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

TYPE

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Mr. R. wrote his budget argument to congress in type of normal size, like this, but he attached a proving table of figures printed in sensationally fine type, like this.

The figures were certainly too small for elderly legislators to read with their aging eyes, but some of the younger congressmen could make them out with the use of glasses. Their conclusion was that perhaps the figures should have been even smaller type.

The specific estimates disclosed far less promise of expenditure curtailment than did the written message.

For one thing, these figures showed President Roosevelt's new budget on the whole is about $88,000,000 more than the one he submitted in January. Also, the appropriations he is seeking are only about 6 per cent less than the expenditures now contemplated this year.

BOOKKEEPING

The basic story of the budget was not even evident to good legislative eyesights from a face analysis of the fine print figures. They needed a pencil and pad to figure it out, and some of them are still at it.

The uncertainty in the face value of the figures is amply illustrated by one extreme instance.

Off-hand they appeared to show a curtailment of some $275,000,000 in the supplemental items of the revised budget, meaning the odds and ends of government expenses. The $450,000,000 total of the January budget was shown to be cut to $175,000,000 in the revised one.

But a footnote on another item (not on this one) indicates the new figure does not include CCC, as the old one did. This time, CCC is listed separately. So, if you add in CCC, the $275,000,000 saving in the odds and ends estimates really is a $75,000,000 loss.

Instead of disclosing a disposition to curtail sharply, the odds and ends item really indicated a disposition to let things slide.

The whole set of figures is more or less like that.

NUTSHELL

Thus, the layman and the expert are likely to get opposite conclusions about Mr. Roosevelt's proposition. The layman will note that the president "regards it as extremely important that we should achieve" a balanced budget next year, and is appealing to congress to help him. Analysts generally will agree that a balance is wholly improbable from the figures.

What Mr. Roosevelt seems to be doing now, in its simplest terms, devoid of elusive figures, is this:

He intends to hold down expenditures, not to cut appropriations. He intends to block extra-budgetary appropriations by congress this session to whatever extent he later may choose. He is saying to congress: "You go ahead and pass the appropriation bills for next year, limited to the amounts I told you last January, and I will try to balance the budget by spending less than you appropriate, and by picking up some money on refunds received by the government on RFC loans, etc."

The whole implication clearly is one of "spending no more than necessary" rather than "active curtailment." The budget is still on the basis of "need," rather than income.

Mr. Roosevelt is taking a less serious view of his budgetary situation than Federal Reserve Board Chairman Eccles has taken, for instance. All hopes of a real reduction in relief appropriations is over for another year at least. To all who are clamoring for a balance, Mr. Roosevelt is merely saying:

"Just leave it to me."

DETERMINATION

Strictly under your hat, two of Mr. Roosevelt's legislative consultants protested the tone of the message to him before it was delivered. They said the relief figure was too high, that he need not spend $1,500,000,000 together with the money he will have left over from this year. They counseled him to cut the figure to a flat billion just for the sake of appearances. It would have a beneficial effect, to show he meant business.

This and several other less important recommendations of the consultants were turned down cold. As a result, there is likely to be an unexpected and unusual inside movement in congress to readjust figures submitted by the president in several ways.

REASON

The officially whispered explanation of the president stand is that he was caught between two fires. The governors and the mayors out in the country have been doing everything in their power to keep the federal treasury grab-bag open for themselves. The state and city officials wanted $2,000,000,000 for relief. A small group in the house is propagandizing for $2,400,000,000, or some such sum.

The president apparently decided to take the middle course again. It would appear he landed about half-way between the pork barrel criers and the budget balancers, thereby satisfying no one, and clearing nothing.
